BRITISH FORCES SURRENDER TO THE TURKS FIFTEEN HUNDRED REBELS HOLDING SECTIONS OF CITY

BESIEGED AT KUT-EL-AMARA FOR MONTHS

Official Statement From London Announces Action of Maj. Gen. Townshend.

Commander Destroys All Guns and Munitions Before Giving Up.

English Forces Have Been Severely Pressed Since Last December.

London, April 29, 4:45 p. m.—Maj. Gen. Charles Townshend, commander of the British forces besieged at Kut-el-Amara, Mesopotamia, by Turkish forces, since last December, has surrendered.

This information was contained in a British official statement issued this afternoon.

The official statement added that Gen. Townshend destroyed all his guns and munitions before surrendering.

Gen. Townshend probably was driven to surrender to avoid starvation of his force. A recent official Turkish communication said that the position of the British at Kut-el-Amara was critical, and that they were expecting to receive small supplies of food by aeroplane. An official statement received yesterday from London showed that a last effort to send supplies to the garrison had failed.

Less than a score of miles away, on the banks of the Tigris below the city, is a relief army which for months (Continued on page 3, third column.)

TO COLLECT CHECKS FREE

Banks to Pay Costs of Clearing After June 15.

Members of Federal Reserve System to Bear the Expense.

Washington, April 29.—The Federal reserve board announces today that it would put into effect June 15 its new plan for country-wide check clearing and collection. Under the plan the actual cost of clearing and collection of checks will be assessed against member banks in proportion to their use of the system.

A circular announcing its decision was mailed today by the board to 4,000 member banks. The important features of the plan the announcement says are as follows:

The Federal reserve banks will accept at par all checks drawn against member banks, whether drawn against other member banks, non-member banks or private banks. An exception is made at the outset in the case of checks drawn against non-member banks which cannot be collected at par.

All checks thus received from member banks will be given immediate credit entry although amounts thus credited will not be debited to a reserve nor become available until collected.

To Have Time Schedules.

In order to enable member banks to know how soon checks sent in for collection will be available, either in reserve or for payment of checks drawn against them, time schedules will be furnished to member banks.

The actual cost without profit of the clearing and collection of checks will be paid by the Federal reserve bank and assessed against the member banks in proportion to their use of the system.

The whole plan is based on generally accepted principles which clearing and collection plans have long been operated. A Federal reserve bank will not debit a member bank's reserve account with items forwarded for collection until the remittance of the member bank in payment of such items shall have had time to reach the Federal reserve bank.

STRONG WINDS ON MISSISSIPPI

Waters Forced Against Weakened Banks With Much Violence.

Prairie du Chien Flooded as Crest of Waters Reaches There.

Winona, Minn., April 29.—(Special to The Herald).—The water in the Mississippi river this morning at this point stood at a stage of 16.7, a drop of five-tenths from the highest point reached Thursday and is still falling slowly. The high wind which prevailed during the night and early morning has sent the waves up with considerable force against the Burlington roadbed south of here and it is being watched closely, but so far it has held and Burlington trains are running over their own tracks.

The water continues to rise in Lake Winona, caused by underground seepage. Park is now entirely under water, but dikes are keeping the main river water back and it is believed they will hold so that worse flooding of the lake district may be avoided.

So many basements in the business district are now flooded that a death of pumps has developed and because of this heating plants in several business houses could not be operated today.

Prairie du Chien Flooded.—The April 29.—Factories at Prairie du Chien were obliged to close down today and one section of the city was surrounded by water when the flood struck that ancient Wisconsin town, a few miles south of La Crosse. The river is higher at Prairie du Chien than it has been for nineteen years and is still going up in the part of the city known as the Fourth ward there is no communication with the main land except by boats and all the houses (Continued on page 3, sixth column.)

DEFAMED MEMORY OF WASHINGTON; ON TRIAL

Tacoma, Wash., April 29.—Paul R. Haffer was placed on trial in the superior court today charged with maliciously defaming the memory of George Washington.

The prosecution bases its case on a state statute which makes a criminal offense of publication of matter exposing to scorn or ridicule the memory of a deceased person.

BRITISH CASUALTIES FOR MONTH OF APRIL

London, April 29.—British casualties this month as compared with those of the month of March, are approximately 30,000 workmen are on strike to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day were uniformly quiet when the pickets took their places at shop entrances today. An effort to settle the strike is to be made at noon.

Quiet at Turtle Creek.—Pittsburgh, Pa., April 29.—The villages of the Turtle Creek valley, where approximately 30,000 workmen are on strike to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day were uniformly quiet when the pickets took their places at shop entrances today. An effort to settle the strike is to be made at noon.

Carranza Government Also Ready to Take Up Pursuit of Villa.

Army Officials Pay Visits of Courtesy and Will Soon Confer.

Americans Will Propose Keeping U. S. Troops in Northern Chihuahua.

El Paso, Tex., April 29.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, minister of war of the de facto government, with the chief military commanders of Northern Mexico, made a return call of courtesy this morning upon Maj. Generals Scott and Funston, preliminary to the first conference between the American and Mexican military officials that is largely to determine the future course of the military arm of the United States in Mexico.

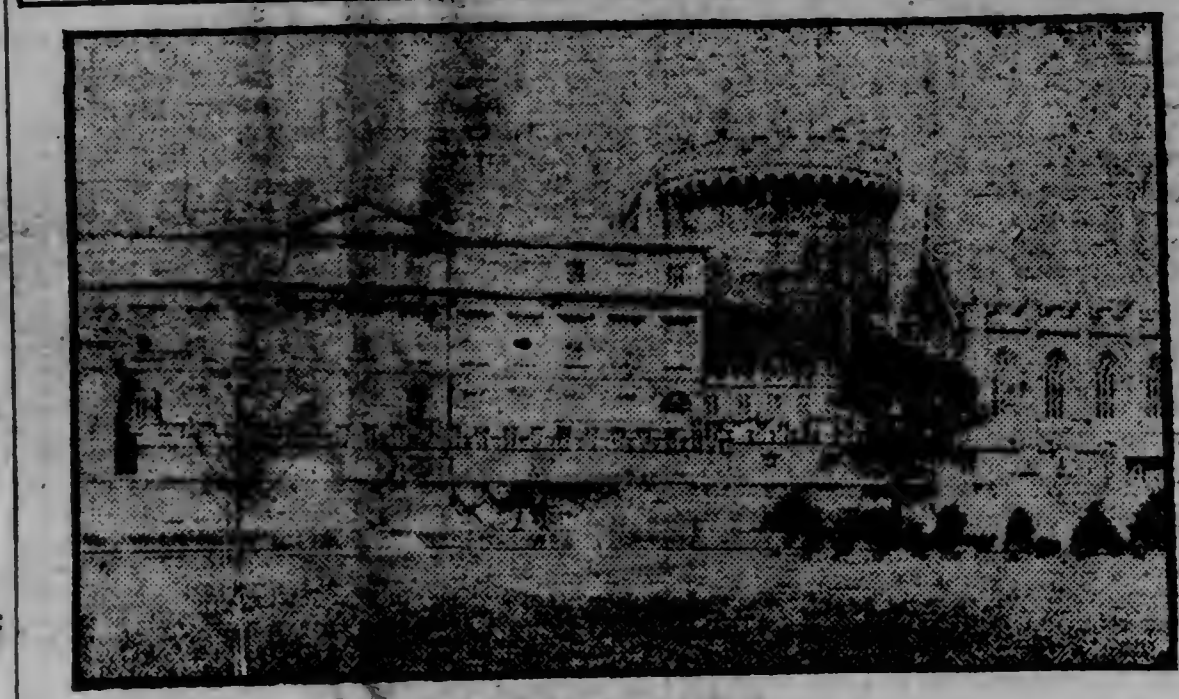

The conferees were in readiness to submit their proposals and counter-proposals at their first session, and it was Minister of War Obregon who, with plenipotentiary powers from Carranza, sounded a hopeful note with the expression that "we should reach satisfactory termination of these negotiations that will meet with the approval of our people."

Ready With Proposition.—Minister of War Obregon, with Generals Trevino, Gutierrez, Calles, Gavira and Santos, with his civilian assistants, will submit the proposition that the de facto government in Mexico should be recalled, while Generals Scott and Funston will counter it. It is understood with the proposition that American troops be disposed in certain spheres of Northern Chihuahua, there has shown by deed as well as by word that there is no longer a Villa bandit menace to the American border states.

The return call of Gen. Obregon was concluded at 11:30 o'clock. At that time it was learned that the details of the first conference had not been concluded but that in all probability it would be held this afternoon. No announcement would be made, but it was understood the meeting would be held in Juarez.

BELIEVED GERMANS ARE PREPARING AN OFFENSIVE BOTH ON LAND AND SEA

French Military Critic Sees Indications of Great Move Soon.

Germans Make Violent Attack on French Positions Near Avocourt.

Paris, April 29.—That the German military and naval staffs are preparing for a great offensive both against the combined Anglo-French army on the continent and the fleets on the coast of Great Britain in a last desperate bid for victory is the conclusion arrived at by Maj. De Cuvillier, the military critic of the Matin, after a close study of the situation.

The simultaneous occurrence, he adds, of Zeppelin raids, the risky North Sea naval expedition and the unexpected outbreak in Dublin are not mere coincidences.

There is one principle that the German staff will never abandon," Maj. Cuvillier concludes, "unless under absolute necessity, and that is the retention of the strategic initiative. It is aware of the allies' common design and exerting all its energies to forestall them."

CONSIDER MERGER WITH SOCIALISTS

Proposal to Be Made at Convention of Socialist Labor Party.

New York, April 29.—A proposal to merge with the Socialist party is one of the important questions before the National convention of the Socialist Labor party here today.

When the Socialist party recently nominated Allen L. Benson for the presidency by referendum, it also decided to authorize its executive committee to name a committee to confer with the Socialist Labor party's representatives regarding a union. It is expected that today's convention will appoint a committee for such a conference. It is said that members of the Socialist labor party have been discussing such a merger ever since the death, about two years ago, of Daniel De Leon, leader of the party in this state. The consummation of such a union would heal a breach in Socialist ranks dating back twenty years.

REBELS HOLDING SECTIONS OF CITY

Houses On Sackville and Grafton Streets Are Burning; Artillery Is Being Used On Buildings.

Since Monday Rebel Flag Has Been Flying From Important Positions In Irish Capital.

London, April 29.—Parts of the city of Dublin are in flames, an Evening News dispatch filed at Belfast last night says. Street fighting continues and there is much looting, but the reinforced military is making steady progress. Most of the shops are closed and passenger communication is still cut off.

One dispatch received from Ireland this afternoon says that Sackville and Grafton streets in Dublin are in flames and that artillery is being used on the houses, the inhabitants having been removed.

Fifteen Hundred Rebels.—Dublin, Thursday, April 27, via London, April 28.—Fifteen hundred or so armed men of the Sinn Fein had a hold on Ireland's capital today. After four days of fighting their rebel flag still flew from a number of central points.

Since Monday some of the chief positions in the city have been in the hands of the rebels. In the defending these strongholds against regular troops and Irish Nationalist volunteers for their lives, which they know may be forfeited on capture. The rebels now command all the rebel positions, the fall of which is merely a question of time.

The streets of Dublin were deserted today except for sentries and military guards. Business was at a standstill. Civilians peeped anxiously from behind curtained windows. Field guns were parked, machine guns rattling and rifle fire was pitifully heard from every quarter at the same time.

When the Associated Press correspondent landed early this morning at the quay near the customs house, the air was filled with the sound of snipers in the vicinity was frequent. Augustus Birrell, the secretary for Ireland with the newspaper men. As he stepped ashore he was greeted by a hail of wish you luck, gentlemen. I don't know what will happen to you, now that you are here.

Fire at Each Other.—Soldiers and rebels fired at each other from street corners, wharves, roofs and windows. Sentries with fixed bayonets on rifles, stationed every few yards, shouted their commands to halt.

From the quay the respective positions could be seen. The rebels were holding a square section of territory from the point of the city hall to the river. A gunboat destroyed it as far as Sackville street, to St. Stephen's Green and the Four Courts, and along the southern side of the river to the Butt, opposite the city hall. They also held isolated positions in a flour mill and a disused distillery opposite the city hall.

GERMANS LANDING ARMS FOR MONTHS

Believed Teuton Submarines Supplied Irish Rebels With Munitions.

London, April 29.—"The thing that surprises me the most about the uprising in Dublin is the supply of munitions in the hands of the rebels," said an Irishman who arrived in London this morning. He spent ten hours in Dublin on Tuesday, and departing times by both rebel and loyal sentries. The rebel sentries were threatening but allowed me to pass after searching for arms.

"There is little doubt in the popular mind that Germans have been landing arms from submarines for months," he continued. "and it is even said—though I don't believe it—that a few German submarines landed and stayed in the harbor."

"I learned that the rebels made prisoners of a large number of the men and a few army soldiers at the Royal Irish Constabulary depot and at Phoenix park."

"My walk through the center of the city Tuesday afternoon was very eventful and I was glad finally to reach Kingstown. I was challenged many times by both rebel and loyal sentries. The rebel sentries were threatening but allowed me to pass after searching for arms."

"I heard that the Countess Markievicz, the sister of an Irish baron, who was prominent in the Larkin strike and a leading figure in the present movement, shot dead a guard in front of Dublin castle in an effort to capture the castle. This effort proved abortive."

"The informant, who is an engineer of the war department and a strong royalist, says a great majority of the people of Ireland are entirely without sympathy for the rebels, whom they regard as a small and irresponsible minority."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

News from the disturbed sections of Ireland is still much belated and the present situation is clouded with uncertainty in the last twenty-four hours of the news dispatches.

A London newspaper reports that the rebels in Dublin have been driven out of their entrenched position in St. Stephen's Green. The rebels are still in control of various parts of the city, however, the widest of any casualties in street fighting are reported.

In the Verdun region in France the rebels in Dublin have been driven out of their entrenched position in St. Stephen's Green. The rebels are still in control of various parts of the city, however, the widest of any casualties in street fighting are reported.

The Thimmeson attack was repulsed with heavy losses, Paris declared, while the French artillery dispersed the German masses before they could advance to the assault in the Avocourt sector. The notable series of attacks by the Germans on the British lines in Northern France and Belgium, reported Thursday night by London, have been something in the nature of a "feeling out" process, as it was not immediately followed up. Mine explosions and aerial actions are the only activities reported from the British section of the front.

British casualties in March were 1,235 officers and 10,254 men, or slightly in excess of those during February.

PRUDENCE ROBERTS, WINDOW WASHER, PLUNGES TO DEATH

Quaint Little Figure Well Known to Thousands of Duluthians.

Prudence Roberts, window washer, plunged headfirst from a third story window of a West end office building at 9:30 a. m. today and was killed instantly.

The name Prudence Roberts was known to comparatively few business men, but the quaint little figure of the window washer was one of the best known in the downtown district.

Roberts was one of Duluth's institutions. All alone in the world, he washed windows for a score of years, only to be killed when a frame work gave way on the window of one of the smallest buildings on his list.

Roberts was the little man, scarcely five feet tall, who might have been seen walking up or down Superior street with seven league strides, carrying a pail, a cleaning stick, a mop, and a huge bunch of keys that proclaimed his coming at a distance.

He wore an inevitable wool stocking cap which had been stretched to fit of all shape by constant wear, and a wide brass band, with lettering which told of his profession.

For it was a profession with Prudence.

Window washing might be considered a menial and disagreeable task by housewives or janitors, but to Prudence a well-washed window was a thing of joy.

Winter or summer he was in his shirt sleeves, with the sleeves rolled up and his cap pushed back until his shaggy hair protruded in all directions. No matter how cold the day, it was not cold enough to make Prudence pull down sleeves, or draw his cap over his ears.

The Fatal Job.

He went to the Jennings block, Twenty-third avenue west and Superior street, early this morning, to do a little job, planning to come back to some of his larger office buildings in the afternoon.

He was on the third or top floor of the block when the accident happened. Whether the window frame, rotted by weather, gave way, or whether Roberts lost his grip, is not known.

He fell headfirst, hitting the sidewalk and fracturing the base of his skull. Death was almost instantaneous. Pedestrians called a physician with nearby offices, but his efforts were unavailing.

Roberts has lived for several years in a room at 109 Pioneer block, First avenue east and Superior street. He has no relatives in this part of the United States, so far as is known, and lived alone, keeping house for himself, as well as for the landlady.

Roberts came to this country from France when a young man, and drifted to Duluth a score of years ago.

IS APPROVED BY PHYSICIANS

New Milk Ordinance Will Be Presented to Council Monday.

Duluth's proposed milk ordinance will be introduced at the council meeting Monday afternoon.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, announced this morning that the special milk committee of the St. Louis County Medical association has endorsed the measure and that a final draft is being prepared for presentation to the council on Monday. The ordinance will require two additional readings before it comes up for passage.

The milk code was drafted several months ago by Health Director Fahy, but because of opposition to the measure, no formal action was taken at the time. It was decided to submit the code to local physicians for the purpose of securing their approval, before presenting the ordinance to the council. A milk committee was organized to make a careful study of the code and the members now advise the measure after studying its features for the last three months.

The ordinance, according to Commissioner Silberstein, will give Duluth the purest milk and will rank this city's supply with the best of the nation. The measure stipulates that all dairymen must have licenses, which can be revoked for any violation of the provisions of the code.

In addition, all milk must be bottled, except in quantities of one or more gallons, while milk houses must be clean, equipped with hot and cold water facilities and the buildings must be a considerable distance from barns. Every provision is included to make the milk supply as sanitary as possible.

The ordinance, according to Health Director Fahy, was drafted from similar measures now effective in several large cities in the East.

FROST COMING, CARE OF PLANTS ADVISED.

"Take care of your plants."

That is the warning issued by H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster, this morning.

Mr. Richardson declared that tonight there will be a decided drop in temperature, and that the temperature will fall to about 25 degrees below zero, which is 7 degrees below the freezing point.

"A good many people who have no addition, all kinds of fruit, and outside, and they will need to protect them to keep them from being damaged by frost."

"Covering the plants with straw, old newspapers, or anything else, with a sawdust set to windward, will take care of them. But don't take chances."

DYING HE REFUSES SANATORIUM AID

Dying of tuberculosis, but refusing to go to Nopemung sanatorium, Frank Cunningham, 44, the man who has been shunned between city and county officials for three days, will be taken care of by police this afternoon.

Cunningham has attracted wide attention, and has presented a dilemma which municipal officials have been unable to solve, because of his persistent refusal to go any place but to the Walker Memorial sanatorium, which is out of this district.

Claiming that he is in love with one of the nurses at Nopemung, Cunningham says he does not want to go there to die. He also refuses to go to the city municipal hospital.

First, Cunningham applied to Poor Commissioner A. P. Cook. After much maneuvering, Mr. Cook arranged to have Cunningham taken to a farm near Virginia, where he could live for the short remaining part of his life. Cunningham agreed to go, but was back in Duluth on the next train. He didn't like it up there, he said.

Next, Cunningham applied at the county courthouse, telling his story to different officials, and ended up in the office of H. W. Richardson, G. Ross, Miss Ethel Norris, stenographer, finally telephoned to the police, saying that she wanted the man arrested.

Accordingly Cunningham was lodged at headquarters and booked as a vagrant. Capt. A. C. Pike did not take him into court today, because of his weakness, and he did not take him to the city jail.

"I don't want to have this man die here in the city," he said. "I am going to take him to Nopemung, which is the proper place for him, whether he wants to go or not."

SPEAKER SAYS TREND OF TIMES IS TOWARD SPIRITUAL THINGS

Reviewing the works of the modern philosophers, particularly those of the materialistic school, L. J. Hopkins, in his lecture on "Religious Aspects of Modern Philosophy," pointed out to an audience at the First Unitarian church last evening that the trend of the times was toward spiritual things.

Mr. Hopkins declared that the greatest materialistic philosopher testified to the supremacy of mind over matter as a life-manifesting power. He pointed out a picture of a great awakening to the spiritual values of the world and reaction from the materialistic tendency of the past decade, which he declared had led to the horrors of the European war.

There is certainly infinitely more mind in the world than when the human race emerged from brute existence, and the mind has been expanding and extending its scope. We now have more control over matter than we did only a few centuries ago, and I should not hesitate to forecast the ultimate triumph of mind over all matter.

"The nineteenth century witnessed a great materialistic development. The trend of life and philosophy was materialistic. Philosophy is related to religion in that it seeks to explain the mystery of life, and the philosophy of Bergson and those of kindred thought seems to indicate the awakening of the world to spiritual values again. Bergson, in his reaction from the positive philosophy of Comte and Spencer, actually denies authority to reason, claiming that the true guide to the solution of the mystery lies in man's intuitive powers, which have grown rusty with disuse."

The lecture was delivered before the Men's club of the Unitarian church. A $3.00 supper was given in honor of the speaker and the basement room of the church was well filled.

SEVEN YOUTHS ARE ARRESTED

Police Round Up Gang of Auto Thieves in East End.

Sons of seven East end citizens were routed out of bed between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning and jailed as auto thieves. Other arrests will follow.

Chief R. D. McKencher, with Detective John Roberts, uncovered a "gang" which has been active since last summer, when they started searching for a car stolen from J. D. Horak, 22 Kent road, about 10 o'clock last night.

The stolen machine was driven up to the boulevard and abandoned, but the pursuing officers unearthened clues which helped identify two boys, and then, when confronted with the evidence, they broke down and confessed to a long series of thefts, according to Chief McKencher.

In each case the "borrowed" car was used for a short "torrid" and then abandoned. Nothing was stolen from the cars and they were not damaged.

The ages of the boys range from 15 to 18. Ask them all "thought it was fun," according to the stories they told Chief McKencher.

One victim, a prominent physician, discovered that the thief was the son of a personal friend, and said to the boys: "What in the world did you steal from me for?"

TRAVEL FESTIVAL COMING TO LYCEUM

Lyman H. Howe Pictures
Will Be Shown All of Next Week.

A transcendent trip on the "Howe Special," better known as Lyman H. Howe's travel festival, may be taken at the Lyceum all next week, commencing tomorrow matinee with matinee on Wednesday and Saturday.

The trip is to Glacier National park. The scenes follow century-old trails, which may be covered with the greatest degree of comfort and safety by touring with Howe, even though they are so steep that the actual traveler often can penetrate these steep mountain fastnesses only by proceeding "mostly on end" and with great hazard at that. While penetrating into those remote but wondrous mountain recesses, spectators will derive new vistas of grandeur at every turn of the winding trail.

There is said to be more geography to the square mile in these scenes than can be found in an equal area anywhere else on earth. That is one of the "reasons" for the park. Glacier park is on and in and underneath the Rocky mountains, where they culminate in the great continental divide—the "roof of America" sketched by the Great Northern railway, to the officials of which Howe's photographs are indebted for exceptional facilities furnished them.

The program, true to Howe's traditions, will comprise a great diversity of other subjects, such as a torpedo boat struggling through a terrific gale on the high seas; a little journey to that land of enchantment, Madeira; through South France and Friesland in Holland; not to mention a flight on an airplane above and among clouds; curious chemical formations showing how nature can surpass art; wintry days on dizzy Alpine heights and how to get there, logging in Italy; the magnitude of the automobile industry in America as seen in a representative plant—the Willys-Overland; a study in nature's detail of the movements of animals which ordinarily are too swift for the human eye to detect; new film fun by Howe's clever cartoonists, etc.

THE AMERICAN INDIANS IN ALL THE GLORY OF THEIR NATIVE HAUNTS IN GLACIER NATIONAL PARK AS FILMED BY LYMAN H. HOWE TO APPEAR HERE SOON

The opening week the great secret service drama, "Under Cover," which has been very successful in New York, Chicago and Boston.

Manager Baldwin believes he has been very fortunate in procuring this play to introduce what he believes will be the best stock organization Duluth has ever seen.

Duluthians will welcome the return of the Baldwin Players. Walter S. Baldwin, during the previous engagement of his company at the Lyceum, has given Duluth some of the best stock productions it has ever witnessed and he believes that he has a stronger organization and a better list of plays than ever before. Many new faces will be seen in the company, and also some of the old favorites will be welcomed back.

The new leading man will be Carl Bricker, and the new leading woman Miss Margaret Williams. Walter S. Baldwin, Jr., Geraldine Blair and Pearl Melville will again be seen with the company, and others in the organization will be William Elliott, Lynn Osborn, P. S. Whitman, W. A. Grant, Grace Perry and others.

The list of plays chosen for the summer run includes some of the latest and best stock releases, among which are many Broadway successes which have never been seen in Duluth.

The scenic artists and mechanical force of the Lyceum theater, under the direct supervision of Mr. Baldwin, have been busy all week preparing the production for "Under Cover."

TRIANGLE STARS AT REX.

Mary Pickford Closes Successful Engagement in Strong Film.

Before the comment on the strong program for the Rex, as announced for the week beginning tomorrow, Mary Pickford is entitled to a final word about her latest picture that caught again the popular fancy yesterday at this theater, where she is seen in a perfect part in "The Eternal Grand."

The story of the play and the part especially assigned the star undoubtedly give Miss Pickford the greatest opportunity for fine work in her film career.

The new week opens tomorrow with a picture, "The Sleeping Stone," in which Mary Boland and Robert McKim and Frank Keenan play prominent roles. Miss Boland, leading briefly Mary Benson, the wife in the story, also her husband as his stopping stone in his upward rise to success.

The play will strike a responsive note in the hearts of many women and men will like it, too. The scenes are interesting, the story is new and daring, and the whole picture one that will stay in the minds of those who see it many, many days.

Lillian Gish comes Tuesday to the Rex for three days in "Sold for Marjorie." In this Miss Gish is a Russian girl. Those who remember how interesting and enjoyable picture "The Birth of a Nation," have a still greater surprise in store for them when they see this piece of work. More and more fire and warmth, traits hitherto not developed by Lillian Gish, are completely changing the character of her work. That she will win anew her old friends and claim many new ones, is promised.

Friday and Saturday, Marguerite Clark, the favorite who always grows dearer to the audience, will be seen in "Make-Believe." Theater goes will chuckle over this success of Miss Clark. She plays the part of an imaginative scamp.

On every day—Friday and Saturday—the new celebrated Keystone comedies are shown, and on the two last days of the week photoplays and other features are chosen.

VALESKA SURATT AT LYRIC.

"Star of the Great White Way" Now Playing in "The Immigrant."

Valeska Suratt is the little Russian talent, and an immigrant at is back-to-day and tonight at the Lyric in a return engagement of the play called "The Immigrant." The play is a return engagement of the play called "The Immigrant." The play is a return engagement of the play called "The Immigrant."

A Norwegian romance marks the opening of the new week at the Lyric. When "A Modern Thelma" comes Sunday for three days, with Vivian Martin in the leading role. The story is well remembered as one of Marie Corelli's most appealing romances and a character, which as a vehicle, required a star of much power. It is a story of a woman who, in the name of love, sacrifices her life and soul to a man who is a Jew.

"The Race" will be seen Wednesday and Thursday at the Lyric. It will prove a fine diversion to those who have seen as much interesting drama for the last week. Anita King starts in the leading role. The story is a most charmingly.

The new bill opening Monday afternoon has for a topper, the Seven Sensational Royal Sylvestors, who handle about everything there is in the way of sensations. Foster and Lovett, a comedy novelty, "Who's Who," the Bennington Sisters, comedy and harmony singers, and Darwin Karr, a comedian, are among the other vaudeville offerings.

"A Woman's Naked Soul," a three-reel story featuring Darwin Karr and across the continent in an automobile alone. Victor Moore, laughed at in his famous "Chumley Fadden" work, plays an important role, and others, equally as strong, help to make the picture a most interesting and enjoyable picture. A happy one clear to the whitewind finish, so the play is founded on fact and is an automobile comedy that has many a laugh and thrill in it.

Friday and Saturday, a return engagement of "The Old Homestead" will bring back to Lyric patrons old friends, Josh Reuben, Aunt Tildy, Cy Ricket, Ann and all the rest in this world-famous rural classic. It is an all-star cast and one both notable and finished, for ability and cleverness.

ETHEL BARRYMORE AT ZELDA.

Famous Actress Will Appear in "The Kiss of Hate."

Ethel Barrymore, the famous stage star who is appearing exclusively for the Metro pictures, has the stellar role in "The Kiss of Hate," a five-part story of romance and intrigue, which begins a three-day run at the Lyceum with tomorrow's performance.

Below is a review of this film by Dickson G. Watts of the New York Morning Telegraph:

"The Kiss of Hate" is a drama dealing with the persecution of the Russian Jews and differing only from real life in that at the end the Jews get revenge through the destruction of the persecutor. A happy ending might have been secured with very little twisting of the story, but with laudable consistency the author and director stuck to the tragic note that prevails throughout the entire play.

The picture grips the interest from the very beginning, and scene upon scene of tragic and exciting action allows no lull in the suspense. To the exclusion of everything unessential, the main theme is carried forward with fine continuity, and this is chiefly responsible for the intensity of the production.

"The Russian atmosphere is well carried out in details of costume in the interior settings and in most of the exterior scenes."

"Ethel Barrymore, in the stellar role, shows an excellent perception of the dramatic possibilities of the part of Nadia Turkenoff, and at no time does she mar a splendid characterization that might easily be spoiled by over-acting. In her support there appears a cast proficient in every way. H. Cooper Cliffe, in the part of a despicable tyrant, presents a convincing character, and Roy Applegate, as a faithful peasant, acts sincerely and well. The extras in the picture have all been selected carefully to represent Jewish peasant types, and add materially to the realism of the production."

Chaplin is now working on a salary of $270,000 for the Mutual Film corporation, which fact he cites as evidence of the great value of his reputation throughout the entire play.

Chaplin's salary is the equivalent of 6 per cent return on an invested capital of $1,166,666, which may be taken as a measure of the value of his name as a commodity.

The actor charges that the picture as originally made by him was in two reels of 1,000 feet each and that it is being released in four "padded" reels of such quality as to seriously injure his fame.

ANTI-WAR FILM AT SUNBEAM.

Famous Spectacular Photoplay Will Headline Sunday Program.

"Lay Down Your Arms," a four-reel spectacular anti-war production, will headline the Sunday program at the Sunbeam theater, beginning the week with one of the strongest photoplay attractions seen here in a long time. Although the picture has been called one of the greatest war films ever produced, in reality it is not a war film at all. It does not parade militarism, neither does it present any of the glories of war. But it does emphasize the horrors and sufferings of war, with its attendant barbarity and indescribable cruelties. Its realism is startling and it will stand out in bold relief against many of the films taken at the front. In addition to this tense drama there will be two good comedy films to balance the program.

"Shipping It Over on Rattles" is a most provoking comedy with Rena Rodgers and Arthur Moon popular film drama of American life ever released. More than 400 persons were used in making the picture which was produced at an enormous cost.

FORMER MEMBERS OF BALDWIN COMPANY ARE ALL PROSPERING

When Walter S. Baldwin of the Baldwin Players returned to Duluth this week, he brought back with him much interesting gossip of the members of last year's organization. Every member of last year's company has had a successful season, and some of them have evidently profited by their experience here to take a decided step forward.

Miss Ann Bronaugh, former leading woman, is still at Winnipeg, where she seems to be very firmly entrenched in the affections of the Winnipeg stock patrons.

Harry L. McInture is leading man at the Victoria theater in Chicago. The De Stephans are in stock at Yonkers. Homer Barton is leading man at the Ellamere theater in New York.

Miss Lola May is still in pictures, and is rapidly becoming established as a "movie" star. Miss Dorothy Shoemaker is in vaudeville, appearing in a one-act sketch. Louis Leon Hall is with Lou Tellegen. A. Romaine Callender is in Chicago with Ethel Barrymore's company. Al Smith and James Mortimer are conducting a stock company at Trenton, N. J. Frank Beamish is in pictures in New York, and Mrs. Beamish, who was Miss Nellie Dole of Duluth, is with him.

George Fox is with "The Home Town Girls" and Miss Margaret Lotus is now a leading woman, and very popular with stock company patrons in Detroit, Mich. Chester McLeod and Miss Potter are with the Oak Park stock company in Chicago.

"I am proud of my former associates," said Mr. Baldwin. "Every one of them is doing well, and it speaks well for the class of organization we had when every member of it can be so successful. I believe I am going to have an even stronger company this season, but that doesn't mean that I don't appreciate the people who were with me last year."

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Students Getting Ready for Final Examinations—Appearance of 1917 Gopher Celebrated—Democrats to Control Mock National Convention.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—After their spring vacation, which ended Thursday of this week, the students of the University of Minnesota are settling down to their final examinations which occur within a month. The verdant campus knoll which is just becoming green and pleasant is finding difficulty with all its charms in competing with the library where students are already "cranking" for the ordeals which close the college year.

The event of the week was the appearance of the 1917 Gopher, the Minnesota annual issued by the junior class. The distribution of the book was celebrated by a festive dance at the armory where the carnival spirit reigned supreme. At the middle of the program 600 balloons were released from the balcony and 6,000 serpentine rolls were hurled spinning through the air. Soon after the Baby Gopher, representing next year's annual, made his first bow to the student body and instituted the spectacular advertising campaign upon which the 1918 Gopher board has embarked.

President George E. Vincent has just returned from his five weeks' vacation in the West where he has been testing in preparation for a strenuous effort to convince the state legislature that the university should not be included in the money saving mania that has come across Minnesota legislators. He is already busy preparing reports and outlining comparisons with other universities throughout the country. He must have a material increase of funds to maintain the high standard which she has set among state universities. While in the West, President Vincent spoke occasionally, once at Leeland Stanford at the University of Washington, the University of Texas and at New Orleans.

The mock national convention to be held May 9, at which 600 delegates will be apportioned among the forty-eight states, is practically certain to nominate Wilson on the first ballot unless the rumor proves true which has it that all Roosevelt men have registered as Democrats with the intention of deserting as soon as the small Republican delegation has centered upon the colonel as its only hope. The plan is to start such a movement that the entire Democratic delegation will be carried off its feet and will lose a large number of Wilson votes on the sudden enthusiasm for Roosevelt which the bolt will cause. The secret is out, however, and the Democrats will be prepared. As the delegates stand now there are 309 Democrats, 178 Republicans, 36 Progressives, 15 Prohibitionists, 14 Socialists, 5 Independents and 2 Anarchists. The Democratic delegation has 38 women, the Republicans 28, the Progressives 4, the Socialists 1, the Prohibitionists 1, the Independents 2,

Following their annual Easter vacation of one week, the students of Central high school last Monday entered into the "home stretch" of the school year. The Easter vacation is the last important holiday of the year, and throughout the pleasant weather of the remaining six weeks, the pupils will be grinding hard for the final examinations. School closes on June 16, leaving six weeks of actual school work and one week for examinations.

This week for examinations, the last school month were made out and submitted by the teachers. They will be the final monthly report before the close of school.

The students reluctantly returned from their vacation, and the school was somewhat inactive during the week. The big event of the week, of course, was the annual senior class play, presented last night and to be repeated this evening, other affairs being left temporarily in the background. Coach Haey and his cast of young actors were well rewarded for the weeks of diligent effort in perfecting the production of "The Cricket on the Hearth." The remarkable success which they met with was due to the untiring efforts that they put forth in practice, and to the excellent stage and business management.

The final interclass dance of the year will be held in the corridors of Central next Friday evening. The announcement of the program last week aroused considerable interest among the student body and early indications point to a record breaking attendance.

The first open dance, held just before the Christmas holidays, was a decided success and was attended by a big crowd of students, alumni and others. Each of the classes holds its own closed dance, at which only members of the class are present. With the exception of the junior-senior ball on June 16, the dance next Friday evening is the last of the year.

The committee in charge of the dance is completing arrangements for a lively affair, and a big interest is reported. The student body, of course, will be well represented, and a large attendance from members of the alumni who are in the city is also looked forward to. The affair will be handled by the following persons, each class having elected two representatives: Norman Tutty, Ila White, Gale Pearson, Gladys Anderson, Wallace Nott, Agnes Ewell, Hickman Powell and Melba Bruen. Esther Gombert's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

Members of the Interscholastic council have completed their schedule of dates for the meetings of the various classes, clubs and societies at Central and the list was announced yesterday. Every organization at Central sends two representatives to the Interscholastic council, the president and one other person. The council has charge of all interscholastic affairs and fixes the dates for the meetings of the various organizations. They have arranged a series of meetings so that there will be no interference or misunderstandings.

The members of the Interscholastic council who have been chosen thus far are: Frederick Tuteur, Raymond Bren, Edward Emerson, Lorimer Linde, Evelyn Allen, Roy Brand, Chester Marshall, Cecil Riggs, Margaret Burns, Carl Johnson, Monick Altman, Donald Alexander, Agnes D. H., April 29, May 1 and 2, 1916.

Enjoy Your Garden More By Sowing A Succession Of NORTHROP KING & CO'S SEEDS

YOU may have a continual supply of flowers and vegetables all through the season by selecting varieties that will be ready at different times—some early, some during midseason and others, late.

A few desirable kinds are suggested for the home garden.

For early flowers—Bachelor Buttons, Sweet Alyssum, Sweet Peas and Poppies are always popular.

Midseason sorts—Nasturtiums, Marigolds, Petunias, Pinks, Snapdragons, Fancies, Mignonettes and Verbenas.

Late varieties—Asters, Zinnias and Cosmos make a good display for flower beds or cutting.

There are two ways by which you can enjoy your favorite vegetables for weeks instead of for only a few days.

1. By using varieties which mature in succession, such as round and long Radishes; dwarf, medium and tall Peas; early and late Sweet Corn.
2. Or, if preferred, early varieties may be sown at intervals of ten days to two weeks.

The Sterling Seed Case at your dealer's contains selected, tested seeds of all these varieties. They are especially adapted for sowing in the Northwest.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Oliver Ellsworth born, 1745.

Born in Windsor, Conn., and studied at Yale and Princeton. Admitted to the bar, 1771. Elected to Connecticut legislature, 1775, and member Continental congress 1778 to 1784, when he became judge of state supreme court. Was one of Connecticut's representatives in the Constitutional convention, where he was the author of the compromise between the interests of the large states and small, whereby states were equally represented in the senate and represented according to population in the house of representatives. This compromise, which saved the Constitution, was adopted by the margin of a single vote. Ellsworth was one of the first senators from Connecticut, and drew up the bill organizing the Federal judiciary substantially as it remains.
Chief justice supreme court of the United States by Washington in 1796, and served to 1800. Died 1807.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—Paul Lester Ford, ed., "History of the Constitution of the United States," published during the discussion by the people, 1787-1788 (an invaluable collection for the social student who would know the arguments used for and against the Constitution. Among the writers reported are Oliver Ellsworth and Alexander Hamilton).

WHY NOT ORGANIZE THE CITY BEAUTIFUL SPIRIT?

Duluth has a habit of responding willingly and effectively to such appeals as that of Clean-up and Paint-up Week.

Duluth has shown a rapidly growing appreciation of the value of well kept lawns, shrubbery, vegetable and flower gardens, vines, perennial borders and the like. There has been more such work done in Duluth in the last five years than in all its previous history.

Now there is a very real and very tangible value in all this. It is not only that sightly homes create a better spirit in those who live in them, but that a sightly city creates a better spirit in those who live in
it. It is a spirit that cannot fail to catch the notice of the passer-by, and send him away with a very definite impression of a city that believes in itself and that is actuated by a lively and aggressive public spirit.

This is all of high value both esthetically and financially.

Why not organize this spirit, as many other communities have, by creating a Home Beautiful association or something of the sort?

Such an organization could give additional strength and more orderly direction to this spirit. It could become a clearing house for the collection and application of ideas for community betterment. It could make a business of recording experiments and giving advice on such things as these:
the best grass seed for Duluth; the best shrubs for Duluth; the best shade trees for Duluth; the best fruits for Duluth; the best flowers, annual and perennial, for Duluth.
It could, indeed, if it were properly organized and gathered into its membership enough home-owners, become a purchasing agency for all these home-beautifying articles and so save the individuals a good deal of trouble and expense.

That the spirit needed to support such an organization is here is made evident every spring by the way the community rises to the Clean-up and Paint-up Week. Its existence will be demonstrated again this week when the 1916 Clean-up and Paint-up Week campaign begins. All it needs is for somebody to take the lead and organize it.

The strategical advantage of that raid on the English coast is not strongly apparent, but it undoubtedly stirred up a few hundred hesitating Britons to go and "do their bit."

SCOLDING SERMONS.

Glancing over a compendium of Sunday sermons—preached in another city, of course—one gets an impression that there is a good deal of scolding in them.

Seeing naughty things going on, the preacher says, in effect: This is wrong.
You mustn't do it. It is your duty not to do it. If you were virtuous you wouldn't do it. The Bible says not to do it—at least I so construe the Bible. You will be punished hereafter if you do it. And so forth.

All well meant. Perhaps all true enough,
too.

Does it help as much as it might?

Tell Johnny, your boy, that it is wrong to do certain things that he and his companions find it fun to do. Tell him he mustn't do it, that it's naughty and wrong to do it, that it's his duty not to do it, that he isn't a nice boy if he does it, and that if he persists in doing it and you catch him at it you will take him out in the woodshed and paddle him.

You may make Johnny careful not to get caught—but will you make him stop it?

But if you convince Johnny—convince him, that is, not just tell him—that it isn't manly and fair to do these things, and above all that it is much pleasanter and better fun to do right things, and if you show him what are these right things to do that are pleasanter and better fun, probably you can do more with him. Somehow that's human nature—boy nature and grown-up nature,

too.

Telling boys—and people—that they ought not to do things, that it is wrong and sinful to do them, that something is going to happen to them some time if they continue to do them, or that they shall not do them—somehow that never seems to work so well as giving them better things to do and teaching them how much more fun and satisfaction the better things are.

If you've no other hobby picked out for the summer, start killing flies and keeping a record of the number you slaughter each day.

COOKING AND HOME HAPPINESS.

It is just as unfair for a girl to marry
as it would be for a man to marry a girl and not provide a home for her.—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah.

At last here is something on which it is possible measurably to agree with Senator Smoot.

He said the above in a speech supporting his bill to appropriate ten thousand dollars to each state in the Union to teach girls
how to cook and keep house.

We can't say we think much of his bill,
though we do think a great deal of its purpose. The sum is inadequate.

But if half as much attention were paid to the food of people as good farmers pay to the food of their cattle, this would be a healthier, happier, sturdier, more efficient people.

Good cooks are few. Good cooking is appallingly scarce. And much more misery and sin and intemperance and bad temper and quarreling are due to improper food and bad cooking than most people realize.

Moreover, judging by the amount of attention the young girls of today are paying to the subject, the coming generation is going to be worse off than this one.

It used to be that mothers taught their girls to cook and keep house as a matter of course, and that girls learned equally as a matter of course.

Too many girls now are learning to look upon cooking and housekeeping as beneath them, and altogether too many mothers are not only suffering it but encouraging it.

In mistaken kindness, they want their girls to avoid the hard work they have had to do, so they drudge and let the girls play fine ladies. Aside from the fact that this often makes selfish little snobs out of them, it is sending them out in the world with a fearful handicap that means bitterness and woe to many of them. For not all can have servants to do their work for them—and none should trust so important a thing as the feeding of their families wholly to servants. The majority who cannot have servants are going to be incompetent housewives, and that means incompetent wives and mothers—and that, in turn, means misery and dyspepsia and marital infelicity and quarrels and the divorce court.

This is largely the view that prompted
Mr. Smoot to introduce his bill.

"I am one," he said, "who believes that much of the world's poverty, misery, drunkenness and disease come from poorly prepared food. It is a crime to spoil good food by poor cooking. Tens of thousands of homes are ruined by helpless and ignorant housekeepers."

With the homes ceasing to do their duty
by the children in this respect, manifestly the schools must take up the burden; and fortunately a good many of them are taking it up. Whether they are taking it up as seriously as they should is doubtful; for in the long run it is at least as important that a girl should know how to plan meals, buy the food, cook it, and run a household budget within the family income as it is that she should know grammar, arithmetic, music, English literature or anything that is taught at Vassar, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Smith or Swarthmore.

Roosevelt offers his four sons for military service; but his older daughter remains silent.

THE FIRST ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS.

The first essential to success is not luck, nor friends, nor money, nor education, nor pull.

It is, indeed, so completely obvious that most people overlook it. That's why most people do not succeed. Too many people, seeking the "secret" of success, are so sure that it must be something cunning and intricate that they pass by the obvious essentials that stare them in the face, and waste their lives hunting royal roads to success, which they never find.

The first essential to success is a purpose.
That's all—just a purpose. The failures either lead purposeless lives, or, having a purpose, lack will or application or persistence.

Those who win success have a purpose,
an aim in life, and struggle toward it.

If they fail, they get up, they eyes still on the goal. Getting up, they go on, still toward the goal. They know where they are going, and they keep on going. So, finally, given proper industry and insistence, they arrive.

Most of those who fail in life fail for lack of a purpose.

The man without a purpose is not a bit more likely to succeed in life than the man puttering with tools but without a plan is likely to build an automobile.

Having a purpose and sticking to it is of far more importance than genius, luck, pull or any other adventitious aid. The young man with very ordinary abilities, but with a definite purpose and a determined will, is much more likely to succeed than the pur-poseless man even though he has genius, luck and pull.

If you would make much of your life,

dedicate it to a purpose and stick to that purpose. You will, consciously or unconsciously, shape your life to that purpose.
Your reading and study will take forms likely to equip you to win. If you hold your purpose firmly enough, it will shape your career. It will give you a definite foundation on which to build. It will give definite direction to all your efforts. It will open new roads to you, one after the other. It will guide you, inspire you, animate you, invigorate you. Having a purpose, you will be tempted less into things that dissipate your energies and resources.

If, having a purpose, you stick to it, you will win.

If, with that purpose, you have a hobby to bring relief and distraction and recreation into play, you will live happily as well as successfully.

The way those Canadians fight over there in Europe just goes to show what unconmonly good neighbors they are to be on good terms with.

THE "CHEERY CHAP."

A Canadian officer, writing from the war front "somewhere in France" to a friend in Canada, says:

The value of any single soldier at the front depends much as it may surprise you on his cheerfulness. Our share is to be to be dirty, and wet, and cold, and to face the danger all the time, and under these circumstances the grumbler hinders, but the cheery chap helps.

What circumstances can anybody imagine under which this wouldn't be true?

That it is true in the trenches everybody will see. But it is also true on the farm, in the factory, in the counting house or in the home. The grumbler hinders, and the cheery chap helps.

On the farm when things go wrong, when the rain rains too much or the drouth starves the roots of growing things, when the bugs threaten the crops or cholera menaces the pork supply, the grumbler adds nothing but a deeper indignity to pessimism, and a heavier load for the discouraged.

But the cheery chap who buckles down to do what can be done, and when that is done says "Oh, well, we'll raise enough to live on anyway"—that man is worth his weight in gold.

So in the factory, in the office, in the home—the gloom-dispenser we have always with us, cumbering the earth and recking with woe; while the gloom-dispeller with his good cheer and comfort is a treasure and a joy forever.

Appropos the Shakespeare-Bacon matter, it might be observed that either can be made to prove almost anything except that sixteen years of unbroken Republican rule gave us more than half the army and navy we paid for in that time.

Neighbors to the Immigrant.

One sentence from Mary Antin should be taken to heart by every American, especially by every American who is unaware that he personally has a duty toward the problems of immigration and the assimilation of immigrants:

The best kind of preparation is to prepare the foreigner to be a good citizen, and the best way to do it is to be a good neighbor.

Remembering that one attribute of a good neighbor is that he sets a good example, you will find a lot to think about in that sentence.

Our country is in her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong.—
Stephen Decatur.

The Chicago Tribune carries those immortal words at the head of editorial columns in which, almost daily, it belies the heart-stirring sentiment they express.

Beneath it, the Tribune almost daily intrigues against the president of the United States in his dealings with alien hostilities, seeking to weaken him in a crucial contest for American and human rights, expressing sentiments that, while they may be applauded by von Tirpitz, if he hears of them, will be applauded by no American. Beneath that patriotic sentiment the Tribune favors cringing to Germany and outdoing Villa by a plunder-seeking raid upon defenseless Mexico—advocating, toward Germany, a policy of scuttle and surrender, toward Mexico, a policy of pillage and plunder.

It was a waste of life, thus spending it in a frantic dash from breakfast to dinner, from cradle to grave.

The time between Chicago and New York on the fastest train in the world has been lengthened two hours; and it will not lose a dollar by it. When there was one train faster than any other, pretty nearly everybody felt that he had to travel on that train, whether he was in a hurry or not. Now that there is no such train people will travel just the same, and will never miss the hour or two lost by the extension of time. Indeed, for most busy people an extra hour or two's enforced rest is so much to the good.

For years a great American railroad used in its advertising matter these three words:
"Speed, service, comfort." Speed first, you notice. That was a queer arrangement.
Passenger men assumed that the public thought speed was most important; when if they had ever made a canvass of public opinion they would probably have found a majority that would put the order thus:
"Service, comfort, speed."

"Well, anyhow, this year that railroad has eliminated the word 'speed.' You will not find it anywhere in its advertising matter;
nor will you even find a claim that its trains are fast.

Railroads are not trying to break records
now. So they will not break so many records. Service is first, now, and comfort;
a reasonable amount of speed is taken for granted. Railroad men used to say that the traveling public demanded breakneck speed.
It never demanded anything of the kind.
The speed contest was simply a silly competition the railroads got themselves and each other into. Here the speed mania is officially laid on the shelf, and there hasn't yet been heard a peep of protest from the public. Nor will a peep of protest be heard.

Railroads, people and nations will all do well to set their pace so they can see where they are going, so they can avoid needless pitfalls, and so they can live by the way.
That the railroads are setting the example is a good thing to hear.

Gilded fingerlings are now as fast in New York as the dullest of the dullest run out before the fat gets to the barefoot dancers.

The War Debts of Europe.

Virtually all the nations of Europe, when the war began, were heavily burdened with debts, largely war debts and debts incurred for preparedness for war.

Taxation in Europe was heavy, and bore hardly upon the poor.

But the debts and taxes of Europe before the war were nothing compared to the debts and taxes Europe must face when the war is over.

War borrowing has multiplied Great Britain's debt by three.

War borrowing has more than doubled the debt of the German empire and of the states composing it.

War borrowing has doubled the great debt of France.

War borrowing has almost doubled the debt of Russia.

Though the war was many months old when Italy entered it, already her debt is half again as great as it was before.

Turkey's debt is thirty-five per cent larger than it was, and before the war that debt was overwhelming, crushing.

War is a great trouble, but the financial future Europe will face when the war is ended will be a trouble almost as great.

What will the finance-ministers do about it? Doubtless they would give much to know what they CAN do about it. Probably they will have to shoulder the burden as best they can. There is talk of repudication; but that is not likely. It will happen only as an absolutely last resort, when all other courses prove impossible.

And yet it might not be such a bad thing, either. If Europe repudiated its war debts, Europe would have a hard time her-after borrowing money for purposes of war or preparedness for war. Hardly anything would so surely make permanent peace efforts fashionable.

Another solution might rest in sending the anti-Americans down to do the work in Mexico.

The Watch vs. the Foot-Rule

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Distance is a Will o' the Wisp, a mirage, an invariable fact and an elastic theory. Estimates based on spaces are subject to incessant revision, since we discarded the foot-rule for the watch-hand and measure by minutes instead of miles. Remember that in your calculations or we'll forget you in ours. If you want to find the shortest route, refer to a clock-dial, not a map. You can get along without an atlas but you can't manage without a time-card. The earth is steadily shrinking under the pressure of ingenuity. Inventors are gradually squeezing all the continents into one.

Your grandfather's geography is ridiculously inaccurate—it told him that the Pacific Ocean was a full three months' journey from the Atlantic Coast, whereas every schoolboy knows it's barely a four days' trip.

America used to be six months further from China and the earth was so huge in Magellan's century that it took years to sail around it.

Speed is the dominating dimension.

Steam, electricity and gasoline have wrought the change.

Instant transformation follows upon rapid transportation.

Turning wheels and churning screws have condensed the land and drained the sea.

Nature formerly gave certain countries and specific cities peculiar commercial advantages, but the peoples and communities that expect to maintain their position because of propinquity to a given point or port, soon find their natural superiority challenged and frequently discounted, by rivals whom vast stretches of country once held from competition.

Faster ships, better harbors and newer machinery more than overcome the handicap of remoteness.

The Twentieth Century canceled all charters of leadership. Towns can no longer lie back and wait for commerce to put in appearance.

Prosperity doesn't "happen", any more. Opportunity doesn't pause at doors with knockers—they're only on out-of-date establishments—she presses bell buttons—they tell the tale.

Old-fashioned ideas won't serve the needs of a new-fangled period.

Nor can the men who cling to them.

There's no more chance for short-sighted individuals than there is for moss-grown municipalities. Organizations of which you may never hear, are including your district in their plans—snatching orders from right under your nose.

They're attacking you with all the arsenals of efficiency; invading your domain via telephone and motor car; piecing out their reach by every available minute-and-penny-cutter.

Contractors, states away, can outbid un-progressive, local firms, deduct the transport of their equipment and men and still finish the work on schedule, with a heavier profit than builders right on the ground.

Jobbers find the retailer next door dealing on closer terms with catalogue houses three days removed and averaging prompter delivery of his orders.

Wake up—acquire an aeroplane and wireless habit of mind—it's half past hurry o'clock.

Every Man His Own Borgias

IF on your next trip to Africa, you should chance to fall ill while passing through a n'Gombi village, the local witch doctor will insist that a devil is to blame.

But "raising the devil," in some form or other, will probably be the real cause of your trouble.

Science now knows that every man is his own Borgias.

Excesses and indulgences, rage and passion, create deadly poisons. Some of us have an extraordinary amount of stamina and throw them off, but if we continue to abuse ourselves, there comes a time when the secretions gradually set up in our organs by hate and anger, excitement, fear, gluttony and overwork, find a weak spot and produce serious ailments.

Perhaps you can recall occasions when, about to cave in from exhaustion, your strength was suddenly renewed and you were able to continue at high pitch for hours.

We used to call that "second wind." You felt as though you had taken a stiff slug of brandy or a dose of strychnine. The equivalent of which was precisely what you did get, only your own body furnished it.

You wore yourself to a poisonous state of fatigue and created a toxin which worked into your blood and quickened your heart just as a drug-store stimulant would act.

All intemperate persons, especially folks who live at high tension, are liable to auto-intoxication, which, in street English, simply means self-poisoning. Good health is mainly a matter of moderation.

WILL DOUBLE ITS CAPACITY

Zenith Broom Factory Will Be Enlarged This Year.

Plans for the enlargement of the Zenith Broom factory of the West end, which will practically double the capacity of the plant and require the employment of about a third more men, are being made by W. F. Schnuckler, owner of the plant, according to a statement made by Mr. Schnuckler yesterday. The improvement and the addition of new machinery will cost about $2,000.

From a small one-man plant thirty years ago the Zenith Broom factory has grown to one of the busiest institutions in the city. It now employs sixteen men who draw an average wage of $20 per week.

The plant was opened thirty years ago by A. M. Cox. Three years later it was bought out by Mr. Schnuckler, who at that time was the only employer at that time the only market that could be depended upon was trade outside of the city. Local business concerns that shipped brooms in then with a manufacturer who made the article in the city.

"This has changed in recent years," said Mr. Schnuckler. "We now have Emil Gustafson, John Thygeson, John Mair and A. B. Anderson. An advertising directory proposition, the promoters of which have been calling up merchants of this end of the city for several days on the telephone, was turned down by the business men. An agreement was reached among them whereby none of the merchants will patronize it.

convicted the merchants of Duluth that we make the best broom on the market and have almost the exclusive trade at the Head of the Lakes."

The concern also covers the range cities as well as parts of the Northwest. It is turning out now an average of fifty dozen brooms per day, as well as large numbers of whisk brooms.

"We expect to enlarge the plant this coming summer," said Mr. Schnuckler. "The enlarging of the plant will practically double the capacity. It will require the employment of several more men, just how many I am unable to say. We have one more acre of land, and orders are coming in which promise full capacity operations."

The management of the plant several years ago realized that there was a big demand in the fall and winter for a special kind of a broom for curlers. During a part of the year the plant has been specializing in that kind of a broom and is now supplying practically every club, outside of curling association. Special design of brooms are also being made for elevators in Duluth and Superior. These places have become customers.

At 8 o'clock last night some 1,500 persons had entered the Duluth Central high school assembly hall, and were waiting to witness the debut of the high school seniors in their class play, a dramatic adaptation of Charles Dickens' famous novel, "The Cricket on the Hearth."

Three hours later when the curtain had fallen, these 1,500 admitted they had seen the best theatrical production ever given at Duluth Central high school.

The Central seniors scored a real triumph last evening, and when they stepped before another big audience tonight they will have the confidence and success of the play. The play, a dramatic adaptation of "The Cricket on the Hearth," kept the audience in good spirits throughout.

The plot revolves about the simple life of John Farringham and his wife, who are both poor and struggling to make their way in the world. John is a simple, honest man, and his wife is a kind, loving woman. They are both devoted to each other and to their children.

SERVICE TO HERALD READERS.

Anyone interested in the purchase of a 1918 automobile can get information about the various machines and the local dealers by writing to the automobile department of The Herald. If you are interested in any machine The Herald will tell you where to buy. The Herald is the recognized medium between buyer and dealer in the Northwest.

Duluth dealers are beginning to report car shortages, just what was predicted early this spring.

However, a majority of the agents contracted for their cars last winter and the machines are coming in regularly each week. Orders sent in now must wait the others and for that reason special requests can hardly be filled at this time. The factories report that the steel companies and manufacturers of parts are spending all their time filling war orders and neglecting the automobile companies as a result.

Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., received word that there is a car shortage at both the Franklin and Kiesel factories, while Leonard McNamara has received similar word from the Studebaker factory.

Last week E. J. Filatrault of the Mutual Auto company reported that deliveries are lighter, while several others received word that they would have to wait some time for their machines.

Cylinder, Duluth.—What was the bore and stroke of the 1913 four-cylinder Leveque?
Answer—4 1/2 by 4 1/2 inches.

Speed, Virginia.—How fast will a Packard twelve travel?
Answer—It has gone 72.7 miles per hour for ten miles on the Chicago speedway in touring car form, with windshield up and top down.

J. W. R., Duluth.—Have any cars been made with more than twelve cylinders?
Answer—No stock cars.

A Duluth patrolman purchased an automobile this week.
This is a record, as far as is known among local dealers.

The patrolman is Officer Harding, who purchased a Chevrolet from John M. Ford. The machine was delivered yesterday.

Patrolman Harding has been on the local force several years and is well known throughout the city.

Joseph T. Peacha of the Interstate company returned Thursday from a short visit on the range.

E. J. Filatrault reports the arrival of seventy-five Ford, Overlands and Chalmers during the last few days.

Local dealers report that the range road is much improved and it is expected that travel will commence with-

In a week or ten days. Several cars have gone to the range towns already.

George Maxson received six Cadillacs this week.

Clifton Ford reports the sale of all the cars at his father's garage, even the demonstrators going to anxious buyers. He expects three Wintons, six Chevrolets and two of the "after-show" Mitchells, declared to be models of the 1917 type.

W. C. Sargent purchased a Chevrolet this week.

Herman Johnson received two Coles this morning.

TRUCK DELIVERY SERVICE GROWS

Becomes More Popular in Large Cities and Small Towns.

"Not only in the large cities but in the small towns motor truck delivery is accomplishing wonders through its ability to cover more ground than horses," says G. C. Frey.

Henry C. Snowden, hardware dealer of Media, Pa., states he is covering with his truck 50 per cent more territory than when he used horses. Frank E. Merrill, a box manufacturer of Turner, Me., often makes forty miles cross-country deliveries where he formerly used the railroads.

PLAN AUTO TOUR TO YELLOWSTONE PARK

State Association to Stage Sociability Run to Begin July 20.

St. Paul, Minn., April 29.—President H. H. Orne of the Minnesota State Automobile association recently held a meeting of the board of directors, at which plans for a sociability automobile tour to Yellowstone park were completed. This run, which is scheduled to leave the Twin Cities on July 20, will eclipse all previous events of a similar nature.

Dates have been arranged so that the tourists will reach Medora, N. D., on July 24, in time to participate in the ceremonies incident to opening a new $18,000 bridge across the Little Missouri river. Medora, as Col. Roosevelt's old home, is already making preparations for the event, and the famous Oyster Bay resident has indicated that he will attend.

The tour will be over the National Parks Transcontinental highway, which practically follows the Northern Pacific right-of-way to the Pacific coast. That railway has consented to run a hotel train, composed of Pullman sleeping cars, diners and a compartment observation car. It will stop at noon and night controls for the accommodation of tourists. Baggage cars will be provided to carry supplies, and it is believed that motion picture films will be represented during the entire trip. While the tour will officially end at Gardiner, Mont., the only northern entrance, the tourists on the ninth day will complete the journey into the Yellowstone by driving their cars to Mammoth Hot Springs, five miles further on where the night will be passed at the new Mammoth Hot Springs hotel.

BIG INCREASE IN EXPORT OF AUTOS

Washington, D. C., April 29.—There was a large increase in the exports of automobiles and parts in February last, as compared with the same month of last year. According to figures compiled by the department of commerce, the exports in February were as follows: Commercial cars, 2,083, valued at $617,357; passenger cars, 5,551, valued at $4,063,429; parts, not including tires and engines $2,173,409. For the month of February, 1915, the exports were 1,002 commercial cars, valued at $5,022,482; passenger cars, 2,230, valued at $1,785,330; parts, not including engines and tires, $564,576.

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

The road extends from the border through Grand Marais, Duluth, the Twin Cities, Mason City, Des Moines, Kansas City, Joplin, Shreveport and Cameron, La.

Other maps just received by The Herald include the preliminary map of Minnesota, showing 2,500 miles of national highways; the preparedness map, showing all the highways available for military service, and the map showing the national parks transcontinental highway, running from Boston to Buffalo and along the Great Lakes through Toledo, Chicago and Milwaukee, and thence to the Twin Cities, Bismarck, Livingston, Missoula, Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma.

Attention will be used to establish in Washington a national exhibit on the good roads problem designed primarily to promote a nationally conceived scheme of highways.

The cash prizes of $2,500 were subscribed by Gen. Coleman Dupont, chairman of the board of national councilors, and Charles Henry Davis, president of the National Highway association. The competition will be known as the Dupont-Davis Road Photograph Prize contest.

The first prize, to be given for the most striking (good or bad) road photograph, will be a $500 cash award. In all there will be 16 prizes awarded.

There will be five second prizes of $100 each, twenty third prizes of $25 each, forty fourth prizes of $15 each and 100 fifth prizes of $5 each, making 165 chances in all for each person entering the contest.

The competition will be kept open for eight months, closing Nov. 7. All photographs should be addressed to "Good Roads Everywhere," Photograph Contest, National Highway association, Washington, D. C.

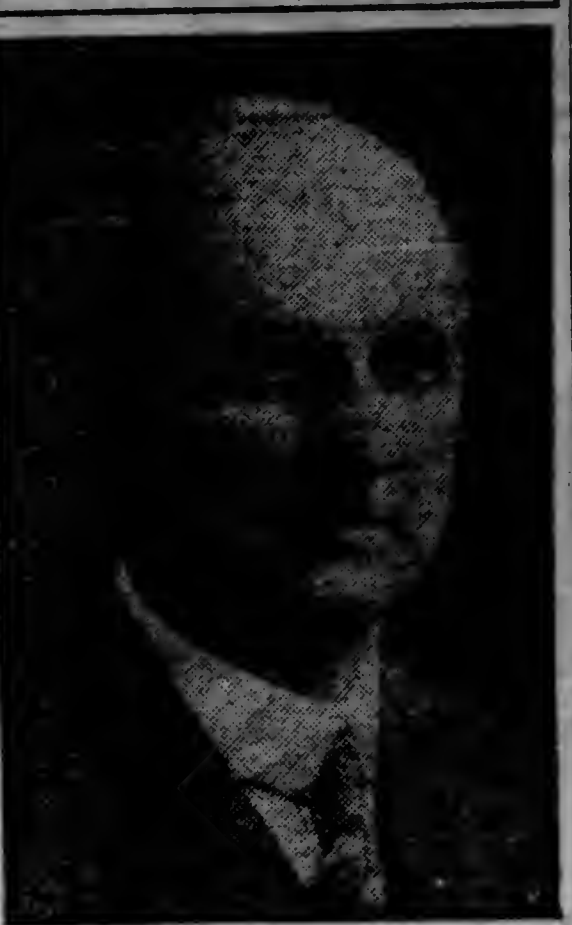

A nation-wide campaign, originating in Colorado, has been started by the National Midland Trail association to build up this scenic transcontinental highway across the Rockies. Lincoln Anties, Grand Junction, Colo., secretary-treasurer of the association, has just organized a local branch in Denver, and started on a tour east as far as Washington to organize locals and otherwise gain support all along the route. He has already secured a cash link of the road both for organizing and for logging the route, and plans to put in a edition of 10,000 log books covering the entire trail.

Good roads boosters representing Chicago, Waukegan, Kenosha, Racine and Milwaukee have fixed the dates of May 14 to 28 as "Sheridan road week," during which a concerted effort will be made to pledge the final completion of a permanently improved lake shore highway connecting Chicago and Milwaukee. A distance of eighty-five miles, Milwaukee county has but one-half mile of concrete road to build; Kenosha is completing its share this year, and Racine county will finish before the summer of 1917.

The Southern Appalachian Good Roads association will hold its annual convention at Lexington, Ky., during the week of Sept. 8, according to arrangements fixed last week at a conference between state officials and the board of commerce. The Kentucky Good Roads association will be in session at the same time. Nine states are also in the Appalachian region. The governor of each state will be invited to attend. Five hundred delegates are expected.

Lansing, Mich.—The year 1916 will be the banner year for good roads in the history of Michigan, according to present indications. Approximately 2,500 miles will be built during the year. Of this, 1,000 miles will be built by the counties under the old reward system, 650 miles by townships in the same manner and approximately 1,000 miles by property owners under the

HENRY D. ORME, President Minnesota State Automobile Association.

Henry D. Orme of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota State Automobile association, who was in Duluth this week, en route to Two Harbors, where he attended the annual meeting of the Two Harbors Automobile club, promises extensive improvements along the Duluth-Twin City highway this summer.

State tours, including runs to Duluth and the range towns, and the sociability trips will be featured during the coming summer months, he said. Dr. J. D. Park of this city is the first vice president of the state association.

GASOLINE PRICES REMAIN STEADY THROUGHOUT WEEK

New York, April 29.—Gasoline is steady in the East. Standard, Gulf, Levee, Gulf Refining and Texas still are quoting 24 cents for delivery in New York and 25 cents in New Jersey. During the week only one city has recorded an advance, the kerosene price in Detroit going to 20 cents.

The impression still prevails and is becoming more pronounced that there will be a further rise in prices in the not far-distant future. Oil men state that the supply and demand condition indicates higher prices, and there are other factors which accentuate this. Chief among them is the accumulation of kerosene. It is significant that the refineries have just come through their period of greatest kerosene consumption, and yet their storage tanks are full. What to do with this kerosene is causing practically independent of the rail lines. The same will be true of cars for Duluth, Buffalo and adjacent points when all the boats begin operating from Detroit. The regular schedules will probably go into effect within a few weeks.

There seems little change in the freight car situation this week so far as the automobile shippers are concerned. It may be that there is a slightly easier feeling, but even if a greater number of freight cars are available due to the lifting of embargoes by some of the Eastern roads, the steadily increasing output of the factories quickly absorbs the greater supply of freight cars so that there is practically no great shortage as ever, when the number of cars needed is considered. Makers are still shipping large numbers of machines on data and gondolas with tarpaulins and board superstructures over them.

FIRST FORD IN TOLEDO IS STILL "RAMBLING"

The first Ford car sold in Toledo, Ohio, has recently been discovered and a still more interesting feature is the fact that the car, after seven years of continuous service, is still on the job. Stanley Roberts of the Roberts-Toledo Auto company, Ford agents in the Ohio city, recently took in the Ford car and its number somehow stirred vague memories in his Ford

WEEK-END FORECAST FOR MOTORISTS

Electrical Exhibition. Coincident with the thirty-ninth annual convention of the National Electric Light association in Chicago, May 22 to 24 there will be an extremely interesting electrical exhibition in the Auditorium theater at which will be displayed electric vehicles of all types, both passenger and commercial, and accessories, batteries and charging apparatus. The National Electric Light association, with whom the Electric Vehicle Association of America affiliated recently, will lend their co-operation in every way possible toward the exploitation of electric vehicles.

KING ALFONSO LEAVES THE AMERICAN CARS.

For the second time within a period of three months, King Alfonso XIII of Spain has shown his preference for American-built automobiles by purchasing his second Willys-Knight touring car from the Willys-Overland company of Toledo, Ohio. ADVANCED STEP FOR PREPAREDNESS

Dodge Brothers Tour Bay State to Determine Number of Autos.

Boston, Mass., April 29.—Massachusetts has stepped to the front in furthering military preparedness, not only within its own borders, but throughout New England.

Under the auspices of the Bay state, a Dodge brothers motor car is now touring the New England states gathering information relative to the number of motor cars available for military duty, the condition of the roads, distance by roads between posts, general topography of the region and such other material as would be of advantage in the event of war and the attempted invasion of this section of the nation by a foreign government.

Mans will be made and other data gathered together and turned over to the fifth division of the National Guard of the New England states.

The trip, which will cover several weeks, has the sanction and commendation of Governor McCall of Massachusetts, and Brig. Gen. C. C. Little, head of the military department of the state.

ALL INVITED TO USE FREE SERVICE

Fisk Company Offers Generous Accommodations to Autoists.

Every motorist in Duluth, without regard to the kind of tires he uses, has been invited to use the free service department at the Fisk Rubber company's branch at 402 1/2 East Superior street.

Free service as interpreted by the Fisk people means testing, inflating, changing, dismounting, reassembling and any other work except actual repairs. Any car owner or driver, regardless of the kind of tire used may drive to the Fisk branch and be served at once by a service representative.

These service attendants are maintained solely for free service work and their value to the Fisk company is determined by their ability to please automobilists who stop for attention to their tires.

Referring to the free service idea as it is working out in this city, F. W. Neuman, who is manager of the local Fisk branch, said:

"We want every man or woman in this city to know just what Fisk free service means and we want every one to use it. You may drive up to our service department, sound your horn, then stay right in your seat and one of our men will come to you at once and ask what he may do. In fact,

MUST BE USEFUL AS WELL AS ORNAMENTAL

Machinery Cuts Big Figure With Auto Buyers, Says Kissel Man.

"Not so very many years ago it required only good looks to sell an automobile," says H. S. Daniels of the Kissel Kar.

"Today it is as difficult to sell one solely on its appearance as wholly on its mechanical merit. The average broad-winner has an eye for beautiful lines, but he has an idea of machinery as well, and there must be an appeal to both.

"I will go further and assert that a fair percentage of men ask about the engine, the axles and other invisible parts of the chassis even before they give the outside a thorough once-over. Motor wisdom is increasing every day and not only the full grown of male persuasion, but the small boy, too, has more frequently than otherwise, considerable technical knowledge of cars. As for 'her ladyship,' while she doesn't come down to carburetion, ignition and such brass tack talk quite so quickly as mere man, what she eventually discloses of her education along these lines is astonishing. Power!!

Few of us have the need or desire for a racing car. We are quite content to let the "other fellow" take his chances at 70 miles an hour while we win along comfortably and safely with the speedometer needle registering 25 or 30.

But every man wants Power in his automobile—and particularly the man who tours.

It is good to sit behind a motor which responds eagerly—buoyantly—to the slightest touch of the throttle.

It is good to know that you need only "step on" the accelerator—and the steepest hills will flatten out like smooth boulevards.

It is good to realize that you command a vast store of reserve power which will easily take you through the heaviest sand roads "on high."

It is good to know that your automobile is a staunch, sturdy, dependable help-mate—not a treacherous weakling that will lay down when the real work begins.

In a word, it is good to own just such a car as the Paige seven passenger "Six-46".

This car is a thoroughbred—every inch of it. It is just as handsome as an automobile could possibly be, and easily capable of going 60 miles per hour if you desire so much speed. But—first and last—it is made for work—consistent work—day in and day out work.

"Fairfield" owners don't have to make apologies or "offer excuses." Their cars are out of commission at one time only—when they are locked up in the garage at night.

And—best of all—you can readily establish these facts for yourself.

This car is by no means an "experiment." It has been put to the gruelling test of more than a full year's road work by thousands of owners.

All that you need to do is get in touch with the nearest Paige dealer. Let him prove his case. Let him introduce you to men who have invested their money in the "Fairfield." Listen to their experiences—ask for their honest opinions.

Do this—while the Dealer can still make immediate deliveries.

GOSSIP FROM THE FACTORIES

With the greatly increased production of the present season at the Cole Motor Car company in Indianapolis, Ind., has come a general improvement and enlargement of the standardized plant. Every available foot of floor space in the big factory is being utilized. The service station has been moved to a place nearer the center of the city and the building formerly occupied by the branch has been converted into a new and enlarged final test department.

The large coat between the new concrete structure and the smaller brick buildings occupied by the parts department and stock room has been surfaced with cement and will be utilized to house frames, and other materials which are coming into the plant by the carload. The arrangement of the receiving department has been changed to expedite the handling of incoming material. Schedules for the moving of material through the plant for shipping of cars, etc., have been worked out systematically, so that no delays will be experienced anywhere along the line.

The actual tangible results of the Ford Motor company's "safety-first" educational campaign among the 23,000 Ford workmen and their families as well, are being recorded in an extraordinarily graphic way. For example, fire department reports that, since the institution of this educational work, teaching Ford families the most healthful, hygienic and safest way of living, there have been relatively no fires in the homes of the foreign population of Highland Park, Mich., where the main plant is located. And, under normal conditions, fire insurance companies consider these bad risks.

Also, showing the length to which the Ford Motor company goes to preserve the health of its 23,000 men (in the home plant alone), here are some astonishing figures: It costs more than $500 a day for distilled drinking water in the Ford factory. The work of sweeping and cleaning and window-washing costs the Ford Motor company about half a million dollars a year. And the interesting feature of this, particularly from the employee's viewpoint, is the emphatic statement of the Ford Motor company that "it pays." Not only does healthful, cheerful working environment mean better health for Ford men, but better spirits, greater contentment, more energy, more ambition and the sum of these is greater efficiency.

Hal Chase Returns to Baseball Field With War Club—New York Fight Revenue Large—Callahan a Famous Pitcher.

Naturally, when a ball player breaks into the National league after a long absence from the major ranks and hits the first ball pitched to him for two bases, folks think he is more or less lucky. And he is, for any time a ball goes into safe territory, the batter has his share of horsehoes, some of the best wallpops in every game going right into some opposing fielder's hands. Also, when an athlete playing his third game of the season steps up to the plate in the tenth frame and wallops the first ball for a home run, thus winning a game, he also has some four-leaf clovers with him. Now Hal Chase is the party who has done both of these things the past week, and some of the fans in this neck of the woods are claiming that Fearless Hal is traveling just a little ahead of his gait, and that when he gets into his regular stride he will not be such a hero in Cincinnati.

One trouble is, there are a good many fans who do not know what Hal's regular stride at the bat is. He has been playing major league ball since 1905, yet there have been so many columns of sporting page space devoted to his wonderful performances around the first sack and his prowess as a batter. The fans over the country have long hailed him as the greatest first baseman that ever wore spikes, and he is also known as a prince of disturbers, but it seems little attention has been paid his swatting skill.

Now the records show Mr. Chase to be quite proficient at the many art of munging the offerings of the opposing slammers. This is his tenth year in the major league ranks of organized baseball, and in that time he has amassed the neat batting average of .283. Had it not been for his poor start of the season, he would the year he had trouble and jumped to California, his average would have been much better.

Fight Revenue Large.

Legalized boxing yielded a revenue of $30,887.10 to New York state during the last fiscal year, according to a report submitted to the legislature Thursday by the New York state boxing commission. The sum exceeds the previous year's total of $28,000. The total gate receipts of all clubs for the year was $804,101.81, while the report predicts the 1918-1919 season will bring in $850,000 in percentage to the state during the present fiscal year. Chairman E. A. Wreck said that the revenue probably be more than $100,000.

Part of the revenue is submitted to the legislature in accordance with statutory requirements, reads as follows:

"The total gross receipts from boxing in this state for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1918, were $804,101.81. Of these receipts there was paid into the state treasury for the fiscal year ending May 22, 1919, amounting to $12,243.07, and 1/2 per cent after May 22, amounting to an additional $3,438.83, or a total gross revenue to the state for the year ending Nov. 30, 1918, of $20,887.10.

"This is the largest amount ever received by the state in any one year since boxing was legalized by the Farley law in 1911. It exceeds the previous year's receipts by $180,000.

"The total recorded receipts from boxing in the state for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1918, amount to $3,438,832.26, from which the state has received $122,243.14.

"The passage of the Malone bill on May 22, 1918, amending the Farley law and increasing the state tax from 5 per cent to 1 1/2 per cent has proved a great financial boon to the state, increasing the rate of receipts from Dec. 1, 1918, to April 16, 1918, it is a conservative estimate that the total gross revenue will reach $1,000,000 and the total gross receipts to the state $750,000."

Winnipeg succeeded in signing a great trio of pitchers in Boardman, Benton and Jarvis. Benton, with Superior last year, was its best pitcher. Boardman, a former A. Koney, Miller, Couch and Donohue also are trying for a mound job with the Peggers.

Tiptle's release to Baltimore was announced in Macon late in March, but for some reason the deal was then called off, and Tiptle accompanied the team to Washington and was ordered to go to Baltimore at once.

RAIN IS JOKE WITH O'BRIEN

Athletic Park Grounds Are Tiled—Weather Man Gets Merry Ha! Ha!

Superior and Duluth Teams Will Play an Exhibition Game.

Heavy downpours of rain that came during last night held no terrors for Darby O'Brien, manager of the Duluth White Sox. He just laughed at the pools of water along the streets when he returned this morning from Carlton, where he spent the night. "Our grounds are tiled this season and nothing excepting a cloudburst will prevent play," said the genial Doc.

"Play this afternoon will begin at 2 o'clock," he continued, "and I will have all of my regular men in the line-up. The performers that the fans gaze upon this afternoon will be the ones with which I will open the Northern league season next Thursday afternoon at Superior. Jimmy Dunn will do the receiving today, while Bartoff, Culver and Paul Morse will preside on the slab. Schmidt, the big first sacker from Sioux Falls, will govern the initial bag; Webb, the boy who got his baseball education playing with the various semi-pro teams of Chicago, will be posted at second; Harry Wolfe, the third boy, will cover short, and Franklin Jerome Lausche, the Cleveland phenom, will be stationed at third. Mike McGraw, Henry Schreiber and Herman Vigerist will gambol in the outer gardens.

Manager Brautigan of the Superior Red Sox now has all of the players he expects to get before the league commences next Thursday. It is probable that he will pitch Donaldson and Smith this afternoon. Both of these fingers are old heads, have nice "smoke," good control and fine change of pace.

The contest should be a real one and Duluth fans will undoubtedly turn out in large numbers to witness it.

Tomorrow afternoon the Duluth Sox will journey over to Halap park in Superior, where the final exhibition game of the season will be played. Many Duluthians have planned to go across the pond to witness the contest.

RAY JOHNS TO LEAVE STATE

Well Known Amateur Sportsman Will Go to Kansas City.

St. Paul, Minn., April 29.—Ray Johns, who during the last three years has been prominently identified with the cause of amateur sport in St. Paul, has left the city to accept a business position with the Schmeidler Arms company of Kansas City, Mo.

The departure of Mr. Johns, if it proves permanent, will prove a great loss to hockey in St. Paul.

Before Johns came here from Duluth three years ago hockey had almost died out entirely in St. Paul. He took hold of the game vigorously, built up a strong team and in the winter just ended the St. Paul Athletic club team, of which he was the organizer and manager, won the amateur championship of the United States and defeated the Montreal holders of the Ross cup in Canada, but through a highly technical ruling was denied the fruits of victory.

In addition to his hockey activities, Mr. Johns was the moving spirit in the organization of the St. Paul Amateur Baseball association, which is now beginning its third successful season. Johns has a genius for organization in amateur sports and at Duluth, where he was located before removing to this city, he formed and nursed to success amateur baseball and hockey leagues.

Recently he received an offer from the Kansas City firm, and left last night for that city. He would have taken his $2,500 and been satisfied.

Dillon has queer philosophy all his own. Why it would have taken me about thirty minutes to lick Mike," he said afterwards when chided for accepting such low terms.

You see, the ease with which he figures he can win a certain match appeals to Jack more than any financial returns.

They say Jack will box for most anything, as long as he is allowed to box. While that isn't strictly true, it is known that the famous Hoosier is one new field of endeavor.

TWO DULUTHIANS RANKED IN GOLF HANDICAP LIST FOR YEAR

R. S. PATRICK, In Four-Stroke Class.

M. B. CULLUM, In Five-Stroke Class.

Chicago, April 29.—Robert A. Gardner, Hinsdale, national amateur champion, and Charles Evans, Jr., Edgewater, Western amateur champion, are the only two scratch men in the handicap list for 1918 of the Western Golf association, issued yesterday by Crafts W. Higgins, assistant secretary.

D. E. Sawyer, Wheaton, former Western amateur champion, is the only player with one stroke.

E. M. Byers, Alhambra; W. C. Fowner, Jr., Oakland; H. Chandler Egan, Portland, are given two strokes. J. D. Standish, Jr., Detroit; Paul M. Hunter, Midlothian, and H. K. B. Davis, San Francisco, are ranked at three strokes.

More than ninety are ranked in the five-stroke list. Among them are: Phil Stanton, Grand Rapids; H. P. Bingham, Mayfield; Arthur M. Bartlett, Ottumwa; F. R. Pettit, John Reid, Jr., and Gordon Guilbert, Racine; Dudley Dawson, Douglas Laird, Winnipeg; Drake Lightner, Harold P. Bend, A. J. Johnston, F. F. Mahler, James Thompson, St. Paul, and M. B. Cullum, Duluth.

PROMOTERS NEVER LOSE MONEY ON JACK DILLON, THE UNSPOILED BOXER

Chicago, April 29.—Jack Dillon is a remarkable man in more ways than is shown by his ring ability.

Jack never was touched by the commercial side of the game. In other words, it is only lately that he is beginning to realize he has been worth more to promoters than he has been getting.

Of course this was inevitable. A few weeks ago Jack was in Chicago on his way to Duluth to box Billy Mike. While here he met a couple of managers who had just come from St. Paul.

"Don't heed advice,"

"They'll meet you in Duluth, Jack, and attempt to get you in St. Paul with Mike Gibbons," one of these managers told the Indianapolis fighter.

"They will probably offer you $2,500. Don't take it because you can get lots more."

Jack said he would be on his guard. Sure enough they met Jack in Duluth and asked him if he would box Gibbons.

"Sure I will," answered Jack promptly.

"We'll give you a flat guarantee of $2,500 if you will sign now," said the promoter.

Sure enough, it came as predicted. But now comes the strange part of it. Duly warned, Jack fell.

"Well, I guess that'll be all right," he drawled. "It's a lot of money for boxing a fellow like Gibbons."

But the match wasn't made for one reason and another. But Jack would have taken his $2,500 and been satisfied.

Dillon has queer philosophy all his own. Why it would have taken me about thirty minutes to lick Mike," he said afterwards when chided for accepting such low terms.

You see, the ease with which he figures he can win a certain match appeals to Jack more than any financial returns.

They say Jack will box for most anything, as long as he is allowed to box. While that isn't strictly true, it is known that the famous Hoosier is one new field of endeavor.

INDOOR MEET BIG SUCCESS

First Methodist and Presbyterian Scholars Divide the Honors.

Sunday School Pupils of City Have Hot Contests.

The biggest and most successful indoor track and field meet ever held in this city was staged last evening at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., when the youthful members of the various Sunday school classes of Duluth held their annual contests. Every event was hotly competed for and each contestant worked his little head off to win honors for his respective crew. They worked as only boys will.

Parents of the lads, neighbors and admiring companions were present and took a right lusty throughout the entire event. It was real sport and the spectators got a great run for their money.

Boys who study at the First M. E. church picked off the honors in the 120-pound and over classes, while the youngsters who receive their religious education at the First Presbyterian church annexed victories in the other two divisions.

The results follow:

High jump—First, Howard Parsons, 4 feet 11 inches; second, H. Bailey; third, R. Burns.

Twenty-five yard dash—First, H. Bailey; second, H. Parsons; third, R. Burns.

ROWELLS TO PLAY FIXITS

First Semi-Pro Ball Game at Athletic Park Sunday Afternoon.

Duluth and Superior patrons of semi-pro baseball will assemble tomorrow afternoon at Athletic park, where they will see the first contest of the season when the Fixits of Superior will battle with the Rowells of Duluth. Both teams will use many men and the contest for an opening one, should be fast and exciting.

Mr. Rowell, manager of the local crew that bears his name, yesterday closed a lease with President Harry Blume of Duluth White Sox, to play Saturday and Sunday use of Athletic park for this season. As the league team will be away night Saturday and Sunday during the summer, the semi-pros will have plenty of opportunity to perform before the local fans.

"I think this will be the greatest year in semi-pro ball that the Head-of-the-Lake has ever seen," said Mr. Rowell yesterday. The standard of players in all of the crews is higher than ever before and the enthusiasm is of just the right kind to make for fast and exciting games. Of course I think I have about the best crew in the circuit and I promise every other manager thinks the same. However, there will be some real good games."

Protest Against Player With Portland Club Likely to Mix Matters.

St. Louis, Mo., April 29.—President Britton of the St. Louis Nationals has protested to President Farrell of the National Association of Baseball Clubs against Jack Roche, catcher of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league. Britton also has notified the national commission that he has suspended Roche.

Roche, a member of the St. Louis Nationals, was placed by Britton with the Tacoma club of the Northwestern league under an optional agreement. Roche at first said he would not play with any club under Class A status, but later intimated that he would play with Tacoma.

A few days ago President Britton was informed that Roche had not reported at Tacoma and learned that Roche had been playing with Portland ever since the Pacific Coast season opened.

It was stated here that all the games won by Portland while Roche was in the lineup and since his suspension by Britton may be challenged.

Marich Jaakinen Winds Up Spree by Blowing Off Top of Head.

Chisholm, Minn., April 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a climax to a drunken orgy which has lasted for the last three weeks, Marich Jaakinen, aged 46, and single, committed suicide last night by blowing the entire top of his head off with a mushroom bullet from a 30-30 rifle.

THIRD BIGGEST BUILDING MONTH

April has been one of the three best building months in the city's history, according to the monthly report of Building Inspector Kelley, which will be submitted to Mayor Prince Monday morning.

During April 222 permits were issued for construction work valued at $610,648, as compared with 234 permits for $510,000 in March and 214 permits for $340,178. This month's figures double those of the same month a year ago.

From Jan. 1 of this year up to an early hour this afternoon, the inspector's office has issued 471 permits for buildings valued at $1,134,248, while during the same period last year only 412 permits were issued for buildings and improvements totaling $879,105. Compared with the month of April, it can be seen that the total for this month is almost as large as that of the first four months in 1915.

The largest month in the city's history for building permits was given the Minnesota Steel company, while the next highest month was in the summer of 1912, when permits were taken out for the $1,600,000 steel dock erected by the D. M. & S. dock.

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

Suggestions for the "cleanup" campaign were given out this morning by Health Director Foster. Some of them follow:

"See that all rubbish is removed from your cellar, back yard and surroundings.

"Don't forget to ventilate all damp cellars. Clean the windows and keep them open to fresh air and sunlight.

"Don't forget what plenty of soap, hot water and sunshine will do to assist you in cleaning up.

"Don't forget the attic or any remote place where flies and germs breed.

"Dry sweeping and dry dusting is a dangerous practice. Raising dust from the floor and furniture, as well as from walls and ceilings does not improve the cleanliness of the room. Use the damp room, the oil mop, the damp and oiled cloth.

"Dispose of old waste paper and all other household rubbish at least once each week."

The May-Time Sandwich

THE MAKING of sandwiches there is no end. We have ham and—sandwiches, cheese sandwiches, without butter (and very dry and unpleasant eating they are), railroad sandwiches and there is even a book called "The Ultimate Sandwich." This last is not a sandwich at all, and is a very gross and reading. It was doubtless given this interesting name because every one has to keep a sandwich of any sort, and the writer thought this would help to sell the book. Just now the demand is for "something new in the way of sandwich" and I am sure that enough between the lines to suspect May walks with a lunch at the end. Outdoors any combination tastes good and one sandwich calls loudly for another, so perhaps the important part of May-time sandwiches is quantity.

I shall not tell you to use day-old bread and heat and put the preliminary part of the work you have heard this advice before. Besides, I prefer to use only fresh bread. I prefer the knife when you cut it there will be no crumbling and you will get the bread will be dry enough, without doubt.

What I do want to speak about is the remarkable number of fillings to be had. It really seems as though food manufacturers have given thought to the needs of the season and invented some extras for these toothsome days.

To minimize crime in the future, the petty offenses of children which are carried to the juvenile court must be eliminated, as they lead to greater crimes, she said. This means that the children must be taught at home and at school to be law-abiding.

"The fact that a woman by virtue of her sex can go into the home and try to sow the seeds of law and order is the justification for placing women upon police forces," she asserted. This is the mission of the policewoman. At present, twenty-two cities have policewomen.

Marie Kallio, who has been ill for several weeks, has resumed her school work.

Emil Oberhoffer Is

Bavarian By Birth

Emil Oberhoffer, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, who will appear here in June at the new armory, is a Bavarian by birth, but has been a resident of Duluth for the last twenty-five years.

In manner, speech and thought he is typically American. Those who know him well declare him the most charming personality of their acquaintance, a man of real culture and refinement and one who can talk on other subjects with the same authority and knowledge with which he can discuss music.

In the past, Mr. Oberhoffer has done as so many of the prominent conductors in this country do: gone to Europe every summer with the idea of looking over the musical field and seeking musical novelties, but with each year he realized more and more that there was little need of this undertaking, as the large music houses of Europe and Boston were able to supply him with the scores of new works as readily as they could be secured in Europe, and besides, during the summer months foreign orchestras of any importance were unable to come here, thus making it impossible to hear the new music played. So last summer Mr. Oberhoffer built a charming summer home on a high hill overlooking two of Minnesota's beautiful lakes and will now spend his vacations in peace and comfort and study new scores, furnished by the foremost New York importers, at his leisure.

This woman spent only a few hours in Duluth last summer en route to the Panama exposition but was so impressed with the artistic shop that she was able to carry the location in her mind for months, which is surely a fine compliment to the owner of the shop and the community which supports it.

Police Problems Are Theme of Lecture By Mrs. Alice Wells

"The police department is the great peace army of the country," said Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells of Los Angeles, who spoke on the duties of policemen in general and the duties of policemen in relation to the home under the auspices of the Women's council at the Commercial club last night.

As Mrs. Wells has been a member of the Los Angeles police department six years, she is in a position to speak of the work of both men and women police officers.

"The police department is the least understood department of public service, therefore it does not do the maximum of service it is capable of," she said.

Never consulted on laws, she said, she suggested to the Los Angeles chief of police that policemen be made teachers as well as law enforcers. Many intelligent persons do not know their rights and duties as citizens and she suggested that the chief of police make a public made up of men, women and children, to be held at the Commercial club last night.

GET CONTROL OF THE OPHIR MINE

Butte-Detroit Copper Company Offers Stock to Duluth Investors.

The Butte-Detroit Copper & Zinc company has acquired the control of the Ophir mine and mill, located in the heart of Butte, Mont., and is arranging for a thorough development of the property at depth, where it is believed the strong veins running through the property will be found to contain some large and rich ore bodies. The plan now is to sink the shaft from its present depth of 1,065 feet for another 1,000 feet and explore the veins on that level.

The company is organized with a board of directors containing the names of well known men in the United States and Canada. The list includes: J. E. Austin, president, of Detroit; J. S. Pishon, of Boston; Louis A. Cadore, of the Dominion Portland Cement company of Montreal; Sir Frederick W. Borden, of Ottawa, chairman of the board; Col. Sir Henry Mill, of Pellatt & Pellatt, bankers of Toronto; Capt. Eiley C. Wright of Woodward & Wright of Brockton, Mass., and Charles A. Wilcox, merchant, of Boston.

The Butte correspondent of the Salt Lake Mining Review has written a description of the property for that paper. The article is in part as follows: "The Ophir, one of the earliest patented mining properties in the Butte district, situated in the southwestern part of the city, a few hundred feet east of the Travena, one of the properties recently taken over by the Anaconda Copper Mining company, is about to be developed by a new corporation known as the Butte-Detroit Copper & Zinc Mining company, incorporated under the laws of Delaware and capitalized with 2,500,000 shares at $1 par. The Butte-Detroit has the backing of some eminent capitalists of Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston and Canada. It is officially stated that work will be started within sixty days and that the new owners of the Ophir are prepared to spend at least $500,000 in the development of the property."

"Of course, the copper possibilities in the Ophir have already, to a very large extent, been proved and it has also been the opinion of mining men and engineers, formerly connected with the property, that with sufficient depth big bodies of copper ore will be found. The increasing zinc indications merely add to the assets and possibilities of the Ophir."

The Megson Investment company is now offering a block of stock in the company on the Duluth market.

PRODUCTION OF COPPER ENORMOUS

Washington, April 29.—Stimulated by the enormous demand resulting from the war, copper production in the United States reached and passed the 2,000,000,000-pound mark for the first time in the history of the industry last year. In an advance statement issued today the United States Geological survey placed the total production of copper from all sources at 2,024,000,000 pounds. Smelter production of primary copper was 1,385,000,000 pounds, a record quantity. That was 228,000,000 pounds more than produced in 1914 or an increase of 21 per cent. The total value of the 1915 smelter output of primary copper at an average price of 17.5 cents a pound, was $243,300,000, an increase of $90,000,000 over 1914.

Production of primary and secondary copper by regular refining plants amounted to 1,692,138 pounds, including 48,193,255 pounds of foreign origin and 59,574,690 pounds from secondary material treated. Plants treating secondary material exclusively produced 322,700,000 pounds in addition.

Stocks of refined copper at the beginning of 1915 amounted to 173,649,601 pounds and at the close of the year 84,129,864 pounds, a decrease during the year of 91,219,736 pounds. In addition to the stocks at the close of 1915 there were at smelters, in transit and at refineries 274,000,000 pounds.

TO PROVIDE FOR GRAIN STANDARDS

From The Herald Washington Bureau.
Washington, April 29.—The house today adopted the "rider" to the agricultural appropriation bill providing for the establishment of grain standards by the secretary of agriculture. Amendments of various kinds were offered by Representatives Anderson of Minnesota and Helgeson and Young of North Dakota, but they were voted down. In a speech, Mr. Anderson declared that it will be possible for the secretary of agriculture to so administer the law as to force a double inspection by the Federal and state governments.
"If the intent of the committee is recognized by the department there will be no difficulty," said Mr. Anderson. "If the secretary of agriculture should be arbitrary, however, it will be possible for him to create a situation that will hamper the Minnesota grain inspection service."

BUTTE-DETROIT COPPER AND ZINC MINING CO

Has secured control of Ophir mine in heart of Butte. Map shows property surrounded by big successful producers. Engineer W. L. Creden, a leading mining authority and managing director, believes it contains some of the veins that have made Butte the greatest producer of copper and zinc in the world

Managing Director Creden says Ophir is in same peripheral zone as Butte & Superior and believes it will make one of the richest mines in Butte with deep development.

Engineer Creden will be in charge of development work and shaft will be sunk to 2,000-foot level as soon as possible.

With the Ophir property the Butte-Detroit secured a mill which it is preparing to place in operation immediately. The mill can be supplied with custom ores pending development of reserves in the Ophir and is capable of earning from $100,000 to $200,000 per annum.

Butte-Detroit should therefore be on a money-making basis, long before its property is fully developed at greater depth.

We offer 100,000 shares of its stock at 90 cents per share and strongly recommend its purchase because of its market possibilities as well as because of Engineer Creden's confidence in its future.

CALUMET & MONTANA CONSOLIDATED 75c CENTS

Over 10,000 shares of this stock traded in officially upon the Boston curb and the Duluth market during the past week at an advance in price from 60 to 75 cents. Conservative Boston brokers, who are acquainted with the Cobalt camp and know that the property controlled by Calumet & Montana Cons. lies in the heart of the richest dividend-paying mines of the camp, are predicting these shares will go above $2.00 inside of the next 30 days. However, we never advise stock investment just because shares are going up but because intrinsic value is back of a proposition, therefore we say from first hand knowledge we have of the Airgoid claim, controlled by the Calumet & Montana Cons., that we consider the stock one of the best speculative buys on the Boston curb today. New engraved certificates, registered by the Federal Trust company of Boston and transferred and issued by the Paul Revere Trust company of Boston will be out soon to take up the old certificates. This last act of the management is to be appreciated as it places the standing of the company upon a sound and safe business basis.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF MARSH MINING

Now that there are over 400,000 shares of Marsh Mining in New York and Duluth and with the annual meeting coming up in May a fight may develop for control of the property and we are advised by friends in Spokane that the present management will probably lose out. In order to discourage any new crowd many rumors are floating. A so-called official statement has been issued which by clever manipulation, taking in the past two years, 1914 and 1915, show a loss in operations, which has caused the stock to break heavily in price. As a matter of fact every one knows the mine lost money in 1914, and as a matter of record the mine is $45,000 better off than it was Jan. 1st of this year. Duluth, New York and other shareholders send your proxies to us to vote for new management and a new board at the annual meeting. We want a management and board that will take the shareholders into their confidence at all times. We want official statements every 90 days mailed to shareholders.

Fifty Permits Entailing Expenditures of $53,058 Issued During Week.

Unit of Hugo Plant to Cost $22,000; Nelson Bros. Block $35,000.

With permits for the week reaching the half-hundred mark for work estimated to entail expenditures of $53,058, the extent and diversity of building operations in this city is evidenced.

The outstanding item in the list was the taking out of a permit for $22,000 by the Hugo Manufacturing company to cover the cost of the first unit of the new plant on Forty-first avenue west. Good progress is being made in its erection and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy in less than two months.

Further substantial improvements were assured in the West end and in the East end of the city. In that connection it is to be mentioned that figures are being received by the architect, J. J. Wengert, upon the office building to be erected for Nelson Bros. at the southwest corner of Superior street and Twenty-fifth avenue west. The structure is to be two stories of fireproof construction, involving an estimated expenditure of $35,000. The bids will be opened next Monday and it is proposed to award the contract and proceed with the work at once.

It is announced that the building on Superior street, near Twentieth avenue west, is to be completely remodeled at a liberal expenditure. Its owner, E. Schroeder of Philadelphia, Pa., yesterday commissioned J. J. Wengert to prepare plans for the improvements. The present occupants, Johnson & Thibault, will move in a few days to their new store in the P. G. Morgan block at Superior street and Twenty-first avenue west and the improvements will be under way.

A $10,000 consolidated school is to be built at Lindstrum, Minn. Figures upon it will be received up till this afternoon at the office of Kelly & Williams architects.

A. C. Hoskins has been awarded the contract for the foundation of the new Longview Tennis club's quarters. The cost of the building and improvements is estimated at $6,000. Anthony Puck is the architect.

The contract for the A. C. Gillette brick garage at Twenty-fifth avenue east and Sixth street has been awarded to John Strom at $1,800.

Gillison & Company architects, will receive figures up to May 8, upon a two-story frame building on Seventeenth avenue east and Twenty-fifth avenue west. They will also take figures up to May 8 upon a frame house for R. H. Larson in Kenilworth Park.

The Duluth building exchange is now located in its new quarters at No. 201 Glenwood building. Increased accommodation in the government plot on the second floor are regarded as more conveniently located. The officers of the exchange have arranged for a house-warming next Wednesday evening, to which members are invited to bring their friends.

The Callan & Hopkins company has been awarded the following contracts: The sheet metal work at the new home of George W. Morgan at Twenty-fifth avenue east and Fifth street; alterations at the C. A. Duncan residence; heating in the new school at Commercial, Minn.; heating and metal work at the Carlson house at Twenty-ninth avenue east and First street.

J. J. Hopkins of the Callan & Hopkins company returned from a business trip through the range towns.

Clyde R. Fenton has obtained the contract for the screen windows and doors for the new school at Commercial, Minn. He is also furnishing Watson frame screens for alterations at Mrs. P. Craig's residence on Superior street.

MANY REALTY
DEALS CLOSED

Great Activity Is Shown During Week in the Suburbs.

Firm Sells Thirty Lots to Eastern Buyers, Making Second Big Sale.

Under favorable weather conditions, good activity was shown in the real estate market during the last week. Many transactions were closed up, and judging from the inquiries being received, operators are looking forward to a busy period during the next three months.

The West end, West Duluth, the steel plant district and the newer residential additions in the Eastern districts of the city, have largely monopolized the interest of investors of late.

As illustrating the investment trend, the sale of an area comprising thirty lots in the vicinity of Fifty-ninth avenue west to an Eastern investor was effected by the Richardson, Day & Cheadle company. This follows a sale of forty-two lots in the same vicinity made by that office last week, also to an outside buyer.

Other transactions put through by the Richardson, Day & Cheadle company included three lots at Forty-first avenue west and Fourth street at $300, a lot at Eleventh street and Eleventh avenue east at $165, and a five-acre tract at Lakewood to C. H. Monson at $850.

In the house line, the purchase by Fred W. Buck of the Stuart & Connel house on Woodland avenue and Twenty-first avenue east was reported. A number of other house sales in the East end are also under negotiation.

Another interesting transaction put through came in the sale by the Hartman building company to A. J. Frey of the Field-Frey company, of a large lot in Concord Park at a consideration of $4,000. C. Argent represented the seller.

Property in the Park Drive division is changing hands freely, according to the Richardson, Day & Cheadle company. Five lots were disposed of there during the week. Three of the purchasers contemplate improving the lots with the building of homes. A lot on West Third street, two lots on the West end, and an acre-tract in North Highlands were also sold by that office.

The A. A. Elder company sold for J. W. Thompson, M. D. Lewon, skofski, house No. 1021 East Seventh street at $2,000. Earnest money was taken on house and lot at Sixth street and Fourth avenue east at $2,500, and a property at Seventh street and Fourth avenue east at $1,300.

The Gary Land company reported gratifying outside inquiry for building lots in Gary-Duluth, several sales being put through. Investors were here from the four-point yards looking the proposition over in the belief of a syndicate. The prospect of the street railway extension, which is being extended to the townsite during the present season has resulted in increasing investment interest.

Receipt of earnest money on the sale of a large East end house was reported by the Harris Realty company.

Stryker & Co. sold for Philip H. Fuller of Hastings, Neb., to Miss Kathryn Starlin, a lot on the West side of Superior street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues east at a consideration of $2,000.

A lot on Minnesota avenue was also sold by that office to Stephen Culford, and two lots on Fifty-fourth avenue west for John J. Murphy of Seattle to Nicholas Rich at $650.

The Whitney Wall company reported the signing of agreements covering the sale of an East end house and two lots.

The Western Realty company reported the sale of six lots on Eleventh street, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues east, to Knute Brevia, who will commence the erection of three dwellings in a short time. This office also sold a lot on Voss avenue, near the Brookline division to Charles Egerdahl for $210.

The Benjamin F. Schwelger company sold a seven-room house at No. 613 Nineteenth avenue east to John Wilson at a consideration of $2,200. It also sold a four-room dwelling at No. 1117 East Superior street to Bitterle, to John West at a consideration of $1,300. It also sold three lots on a heavily wooded area, described as lots 2, 4 and 5, block 4, Motorline division, to E. Monson, at a consideration of $1,100; and a twelve-room house and lot at No. 2502 Belmont street, for E. Grossinger, to Frank Mody at a consideration of $2,250.

Ebert-Walker company has sold forty acres in 61-14 to meet from Illinois, who are buying for immediate improvement and truck gardening.

Earnest money has been received on sixteen lots adjoining Duluth Heights. The house and lot located at 6115 Wadena street sold to Charles Hill for $350.

This firm reports having several parties here the past week from South Dakota and Southern Minnesota looking over Carlton county lands.

REALTY DEALERS
WILL DINE JUNE 1

The annual meeting and dinner of the Duluth Real Estate exchange will be held at the Klitch Gammal club on the evening of June 1. It is intimated that a number of unique features will be introduced in the after-dinner program. The list of speakers will include several prominent outsiders.

MORE FACTORIES
MAY LOCATE HERE

The establishing of other extensive industries here is foreshadowed in the opening of negotiations with John A. Stephenson & Co. This week for the purchase of two five-acre industrial sites in West Duluth.

The principals are connected with large Illinois manufacturing enterprises that are seeking to establish branches at the Head of the Lakes.

HOME MAKERS

The Herald Wants Articles Telling Experiences and Benefits.

Contest Is Held in Connection With Home-Buying Campaign.

Duluthians who are buying their own homes or who are desiring to do so will have an opportunity to earn a little extra money which they can apply on the payment of use to buy "that rug for the living room" by writing for The Herald about the benefits of owning one's own home.

Of course the contest is not confined to home owners or prospects in that line. Others have as much right to exercise their literary proclivities in telling their dreams; but the contest is primarily for homebuilders.

What The Herald wants, though, is a relation of experiences which have actually happened in the buying of houses and in their development, and what benefits have actually been derived in such ventures.

FIDELITY BLDG.

14 West Superior St.

It is a well known fact that the most successful concerns are the most discriminating in the selection of locations for their offices.

We are proud of our tenants and a glance at the names on the Fidelity Building Directory (in the lobby) cannot fail to convince any reasonable person that our pride is justified.

That we are still able to offer a few very desirable offices is due to the fact that we have been just as discriminating in the selection of our tenants as the tenants have been in their selection of a building.

An office in the Fidelity Building is a credential of business or professional integrity.

Allow us to show you these offices. The rents are reasonable, the service excellent and the building fireproof. Very low insurance rates.
